TAX BILL PASSES WITH SECTION 14 EXCISED BY SOLONS

Angry Debate Over Portion Aimed at "Invisible Property" Leads 69 to Vote Against Whole Measure.

WOULD DRIVE CAPITAL FROM STATE, IT IS SAID

Appropriations Bill, Now Taken Up, Exceeds All Preceding Measures of Its Kind by Nearly Million Dollars.

The long parley in the house at the morning session Tuesday over section 14, of the general tax act, which was aimed at making "invisible property bear its burden of taxes," terminated at the afternoon session by the defeat of the section.

The general tax act was passed at the afternoon session by a vote of 102 to 69. The adverse votes upon the entire bill were brought about by the attitude of individual members toward various sections of the bill, which passed over the protest of such members.

The consideration of the appropriations bill was taken up after the passage of the tax act, and will be continued at the Wednesday morning session.

The action of the house in completing the tax act revision, which some had feared would not be completed before Wednesday afternoon or Thursday morning, materially reduces the possibility of an extra session.

The tax revision bill will be expedited in the senate by reason of the fact that the senate finance committee has been considering the tax bill as it was taken up by the house, and has its decision ready on a large number of the sections, so that the bill will probably be quickly reported to the senate by that committee and no time will be lost.

Section 14.

The house spent most of Tuesday in debate over section 14 of the tax act. The section provided that clerks of the courts of each county should prepare a list of all uncancelled judgments, deeds to secure debts, mortgages, liens of record and that the list should go back ten years; the list to be submitted to the tax receiver of the county. The principal fight on the section was over the condition imposed that "the situs of such choses in action, when owned by non-residents, shall be in the county of the residence of said defendant in fi. fa., mortgagor or leinor."

Mr. Wright, supporting the ways and means committee, charged that the time has come when the state simply has got to tax the invisible property, that the men who own land have been so outraged that they are not going to stand for the existing condition any longer. The purpose of the section in the tax act is to impose a burden on the foreign money which is turned loose in this state, and which contributes no taxes to Georgia, he said. Georgia money loaned in Georgia, he charged, is now paying a tax, but that coming from the outside is not.

Referring to a letter sent to every member of the house by a loan brokerage firm, Mr. Wright said that was a threat to the members of the house, and the one thing he despised worse than he hated the devil was a coward; that the tactics being employed by the foreign money loan people was nothing short of "a threat to put the screws down on you and put you out of here."

That the taxing conditions in Georgia shall not be permitted to go on as they are, Mr. Wright asserted, adding: "If you do not settle it here today it is going to be settled at a nearby election, and you can put that down as definite—it can't be downed, and it isn't going to be downed."

Swift's Reply.

Mr. Swift, replying to Mr. Wright, showed from contracts made by the principal mortgage companies, and some of the large insurance companies, that the conditions included the declaration that the loan might be called when state taxation not existing when the loan was made was imposed. Mr. Swift said there was now $33,000,000 outstanding in loans in this state, of which more than $10,000,000 would mature in December and January next, and the enactment of section 14 would mean simply that these loans would be called and the banks of the state could not supply the money to meet them.

Mr. Burwell, speaking against the proviso in the section, pictured the condition that would be brought about by foreclosures when loans are called and the people who had borrowed money to build small homes, to say nothing of the big office buildings, were turned from those homes. He said he cast the deciding vote which put the present tax equalization law on the statute books, because of the very fact that it made a way to reach the invisible property tax bill, in its entirety, as inforced.

Burkhalter Amendment.

Mr. Burkhalter, of Tattnall, sought to amend the bill as to invisible property, by making section 16 his invisible property tax bill, in its entirey, as introduced early in the session.

Mr. Hall, of Bibb, offered an amendment, adding a section to the bill, which was in the nature of a rider that would limit the power of the governor and the comptroller general so that next year's tax rate would be fixed at 4 mills. The comptroller general, in computing the tax statistics which have been submitted to the legislature from time to time during the session, had based his calculations on a tax levy of the full constitutional limit of 5 mills.

Mr. Grantland, of Spalding, spoke in favor of the section, as did Mr. Johnson, of Bartow; Mr. Burkhalter speaking for the section with his amendment in the bill.

Mr. Pickett, of Terrell, and Mr. Anderson, of Jenkins, spoke against the proviso and the section as a whole. Mr.

750,000 Americans Are Carrying Guns To Pot "Wild Bill"

That Number of Men Ready in Regular Army and National Guard, Exclusive of Navy and Marine Corps.

REGULATIONS DRAWN FOR THE DRAFTED ARMY

War Department Preparing for Mobilization of Conscripts—Nearly 200,000 of Conscripts Will Be Used as Recruits for Regular Army and National Guard.

Washington, August 7.—Provost Marshal General Crowder and his assistants are at work on the final set of regulations to be promulgated this week to complete the organization of the selective draft war army. They will govern actual mobilization of the men selected.

Statements issued today by the war department show that preliminary figures place the total force of national guard taken into the federal service August 5, at 13,093 officers and 419,834 men. Another statement showed that 180,766 war volunteers have been recruited for the regular service since April 1, leaving only about 2,000 vacancies in the regulars at war strength.

These figures mean that approximately 725,000 men are under arms, exclusive of the navy and marine corps, to be supplemented within the next few weeks by 687,000 raised under the selective draft bill. Of the latter number about 500,000 will compose the third great element of the war army, the new national army, and the remainder will go to fill up the regulars and the national guard and their reserves.

Assigning Drafted Men.

The mobilization regulations will show how the drafted men are to be assigned. Already the war department has received countless applications from men certain to be called in the first increment of the draft forces for assignment to some particular arm or branch of the service. Where a man has been summoned by his local board for physical examination, no methods exist whereby he may enlist in the regulars and have his service count on the home quota. It is probable, however, that some effort will be made to meet the wishes of the drafted men in this regard as far as possible when they are mobilized. It can only be done to a limited extent, as the regulars and guards, as shown by today's statement, are practically filled up now.

The war department has taken over recruiting for the national guard as well as the regulars, the entire guard having now become a part of the army of the United States and having no connection with the states. Today's statement says that about half the men applying for enlistment are within the draft ages. Those accepted will count as credits on subsequent quotas of their districts.

The statement lays stress, however, on the fact that the country wants all the men it can get who can be spared at home.

The national guard statement shows that only the number of men short of the 419,834 figure, shown by checking of the muster rolls by department commanders, and the rejection of any found unfit, will be taken from the draft forces for the guard service. The recruiting service expects to fill the regular army to full war service tomorrow or next day, so that there probably will be a surplus of 150,000 or more men when the full 687,000 of the first increment of the national army is assembled.

Recruit Depot in France.

In addition recruiting throughout the country will supplement the excess, all men who volunteer going into the regulars or the national guard or into the reserve after full war strength is reached.

It is regarded as likely that the mobilization regulations soon to be issued will show that the surplus of drafted men is to be used as a recruit reservoir and that all the men will be put under training as quickly as possible. A recruit depot will be established in France from which regiments at the front will be kept filled up, drafts of men from the main recruit depot in this country being sent over to this distribution center as needed. In the same way, sick or wounded men will be returned to the front when recovered and a steady flow of recruits to maintain active regiments at top fighting efficiency will be provided in this way.

The only hint of the probable method of mobilization of drafted men lies in a recent ruling by General Crowder which shows that the adjutant general may summon the quotas of the districts in increments. Division of each quota into five equal parts is suggested, each part to be called up separately as needed.

Under this arrangement it will be possible to call out at once the men to form the new national army, and to summon later those who are to compose the reserves for all elements of the army. Men temporarily needed in harvest fields or elsewhere should be classified by local boards into these later increments to meet emergency situations in their districts without delaying organization of new forces.

ALBERT HOWELL NAMED NEW CHIEF OF STAFF

Six Other Atlantans Honored by Governor in Naming Military Aids.

Governor Hugh M. Dorsey last night announced the appointment of his staff, with the exception of naval aide, the appointment of which he expects to announce soon.

The governor named as chief of his military staff, with the rank of colonel, Albert Howell, Jr., of Atlanta.

Mr. Howell has been a lifelong friend of Governor Dorsey, and was his partner-at-law prior to his election as governor.

Marshall Nelms, of Atlanta, who was associated with the governor in his campaign, and who is now his private secretary, was named military secretary.

Other Atlantans named on the governor's staff are: Hollins N. Randolph, attorney; D. N. McCullough, wholesale produce merchant; Edward Lyle, attorney; J. D. Robinson, head of the A. M. Robinson company, wholesale dry goods dealers; Joseph D. Rhodes, treasurer of the Rhodes-Wood Furniture company; Britt Craig, writer for The Constitution, who represented this paper as special staff correspondent during Mr. Dorsey's campaign of the state.

The entire list of appointments is as follows:

Colonel Albert Howell, Jr., Atlanta, chief-of-staff; Marshall Nelms, Atlanta, military secretary; lieutenant colonels: O. F. Kirkland, Augusta; J. C. Verner, Commerce; J. D. Chason, Bainbridge; Hollins N. Randolph, Atlanta; Samuel Yates Austin, LaGrange; William Butt, Blue Ridge; R. R. Gunn, Crawfordville; Miller S. Bell, Milledgeville; D. N. McCullough, Atlanta; Edward Lyle, Atlanta; Gordon Knox, Hazelhurst; D. G. Brumby, Marietta; S. B. Yow, Lavonia; Phil. Lanier, West Point; Homer McClatchey, Rome; J. E. Chancellor, Columbus; James Y. Swift, Middleton; J. E. Linder, Hartwell; James F. McCrackin, Valdosta; A. A. Flte, Rome; J. D. Robinson, Atlanta; C. B. Lewis, Macon; W. H. Davis, Waynesboro; William deL. Worsley, Columbus; J. R. Batchellor, Eatonton; Britt Craig, Atlanta; Harry Hodgson, Athens; Joseph D. Rhodes, Atlanta; Gordon Saussey, Savannah.

COTTON TO BE PLACED UNDER EXPORT CONTROL

In Order to Prevent It Reaching Germany Through Neutrals.

Washington, August 7.—Three important commodities—cotton, lumber and sugar—probably will be put under export control soon by President Wilson. The exports council, it is understood, already has recommended that they be added to the list of goods for whose shipment out of the country license is required.

Goods that now cannot be exported without license include foods, feedstuffs, iron, steel and explosives. By adding cotton, lumber and sugar to these, the government will extend its control to cover the most important of its export materials.

Officials who comprise the exports council are particularly desirous that the shipmesnt of cotton be controlled. This commodity, of which Germany is in desperate need, has gone to the European neutral countries in large quantities within the last three years.

Reports that the United States would embargo coal shipmets to Canada were denied officially today.

RICH KINGDON GOULD CLAIMING EXEMPTION

On Plea of Dependents to Support—Physically Fit and Wedded July 2.

New York, August 7.—Kingdon Gould, of Lakewood, N. J., railroad official and eldest son of George Jay Gould, capitalist, has filed at Tom's River, N. J., a claim of exemption from enforced military duty on the plea of dependents for support. He had been passed as physically fit for army duty by the surgeons of the exemption board. Gould was married July 2.

TWO AEROPLANES RECEIVED AT TECH AVIATION SCHOOL

Among the two carloads of paraphernalia received at the Tech Aviation school yesterday from the government flying station at Mineola, L. I., are two complete aeroplanes, a set of motors for each and several additional parts of aerial equipment necessary for demonstration. The machines will be assembled today under the direction of Lieutenant Richards and the aeronautical staff.

Professor P. Stanley Woodward, who for the past several months has been actively engaged on the drill staff at the Tech military quarters, has resigned his position to return to the department of chemistry, in which section he left temporarily during the early training season at the camp.

The problem of erecting new buildings in preparation for the great additional attendance at Tech this fall was officially taken up by the board of directors yesterday and the necessary plans and specifications will soon be prepared.

SAY AGENTS BILK TAX DEFAULTERS

Council May Investigate Alleged Practice of Parties Who Make Business of Buying Tax Titles.

Following complaints of several Atlanta attorneys, the city council, at its next meeting, will probably order an investigation into the alleged practice of certain agents, who, it is claimed, have been exacting extortionate sums of money from people whose property they have bought in at tax sales, who are desirous of redeeming their property.

Alderman J. H. Ewing announced Tuesday that it was his intention to introduce a resolution at the next council meeting asking for the appointment of a special committee to look into the whole matter.

"This is purely a matter of investigation, so far as I am concerned," said Mr. Ewing. "I do not know what there is to the charges, but I want to get to the bottom of it. If the people are being fleeced, I am determined to find out how and by whom it is being done, and to find a remedy. The matter is of such importance that I think it warrants special investigation, and I am going to ask at the next meeting that a committee be appointed to look into it and report their findings to council."

In speaking of the city hall rumor that there has been some collusion between attaches in the marshal's office, the city attorney's office and certain "agents," Mr. Ewing declared that he believed this to be unfounded.

"The mere fact that certain men have their offices together is not significant," said Mr. Ewing. "A man has a right to have his office anywhere he pleases, and I feel sure that there is absolutely nothing to this charge."

May Frame Ordinance.

Alderman Ewing also stated that he had under consideration the framing of an ordinance which he would introduce in the near future which would require real estate agents to keep the tax collector advised of the addresses of property owners whom they represent. In this way it is thought that the large number of sales for non-payment of taxes will be materially lowered, and the property owners saved from the expense which redemption entails.

The agent specifically named by the attorneys, who appeared before the tax committee last week, is Sam Dunlap, who advertises that he is located at 1414 Fourth National Bank building, which is the office occupied by Assistant City Attorney Sam Hewlett. Dunlap's attorney, E. C. Buchanan, is the son of William Buchanan, who is a claim adjuster for the city and attached to the city marshal's office.

It has been rumored that there is a line of information and co-operation going from the city attorney's office and the city marshal's office to Sam Dunlap, who is in the business of buying up tax titles, it having been charged that some one in the city attorney's office informs those who appeal to him when their property has been sold to Dunlap, that Dunlap has a good title to their property and that they will have to pay whatever he demands. Certain cases of alleged extortion on the part of Dunlap were laid before the committee.

Says No Extortion.

E. C. Buchanan, attorney for Sam Dunlap, declared that his client has never exacted more than the legal amount due.

"It is simply that some people are sore because they failed to pay their taxes, and had to pay the penalty," said Mr. Buchanan. "Mr. Dunlap has never exacted more than the legal amount due him in these cases, which is the amount of the taxes plus a ten per cent penalty, and seven per cent interest, and incidental fees, such as recording fees, etc., which are necessary in the premises.

"A suit has been filed in the superior court against Mr. Dunlap, but in this suit there is no charge of extortion or fraud. The property in question was acquired at a foreclosure sale in 1916, whereas Mr. Dunlap bought it under a sale for street improvement assessments in 1914. The foreclosure purchase was not valid and Mr. Dunlap is not only in possession of the property in question, but has a good title to it."

Mr. Dunlap stated that a number of suits had been filed against him asking that his tax titles be declared invalid, but that the courts had decided in his favor.

Prompt Response By Local Chapter To Call of Navy

A call has been received by the local chapter of the Red Cross asking that the Atlanta chapter furnish at once medical supplies for the battleship "Georgia" and the torpedo boat destroyers, "Patterson," "Paulding" and "Winslow." The call comes from James G. Blaine, Jr., assistant director of Red Cross chapters, and immediate compliance with the request is urged.

Mrs. John Grant, chairman of the Atlanta work room of the local Red Cross, and Mrs. Albert Thornton, Jr., secretary of the Atlanta chapter, have sent the following reply to Director Blaine's request:

"You may depend on the Atlanta chapter for the 6,180 surgical dressings specified in your letter, dressings to be forwarded direct to Bush terminal in two weeks for immediate transfer to the ships for which they are made."

One hundred women will be needed at the work rooms every day for the next two weeks, both morning and afternoon, in order to have the required number of dressings in readiness at the specified time, and it is necessary that these one hundred women be those who have had experience in wrapping dressings.

The dressings, which are now in the warehouse, cannot be utilized for this navy allotment, as it would be necessary to unpack and recount them, and in addition to this the navy requirements along this line are entirely different from the army regulations. Hence, it will be necessary that 6,180 new dressings must be wrapped.

"It will mean a lot of work," said Mrs. Grant, "but Atlanta women have never failed when the call has come, and they are not going to fail in this instance. The very fact that the battleship "Georgia" is depending upon us ought to be sufficient incentive to bring out the necessary help. It is warm, and our women have worked hard, but these are small matters to those whose hearts are with their country in this hour of stress and strain."

Heavy Blow Struck Russ-Rumania Line By Austro-Germans

Defenders of Bessarabia Are Forced Across River and Many Guns and Prisoners Are Captured.

TWO RUSS REGIMENTS TURN TRAITOR AND FLEE

At Several Other Points, However, the Russians Seem to Be Holding Own. Heavy Bombardments in Progress on the Western Front.

New York, August 7.—(By Associated Fress. From European Cables of the Day.)—Having been enabled, mainly through the disaffection in the Russian army, to drive the Russians out of the greater part of Galicia and Bukowina, the Austro-Germans now have begun in southern Moldavia a maneuver the success of which would be of vast import against the Russo-Rumanian line barring the way to Bessarabia. At Fokshani the enemy has struck a swift blow at the defenders of the line and forced them across the River Tyrladesus, thereby threatening the crossing of the lower Sereth and the road to Galatz, one of the chief Rumanian towns on the Danube still remaining in Rumanian hands. A number of guns of various calibers, and 1,300 prisoners were taken by the invaders.

To the north, along the Bystritza river in Rumania, two Russian regiments turned traitor and fled, compelling the main forces of the Russians there to retire again several miles. Near Kimpolung, in southern Bukowina, the Russians gave battle on the heights of Molit, but were defeated and forced to cede terrain. At several points farther north the Russians are at grips with the enemy, and apparently are more than holding their own, in several sectors having driven back the Teutonic advanced posts.

Taking advantage of the retreat of the Russians west of the Zbrocz river, where the disaffection in General Brussiloff's army made it virtually a rout, the Austrians and Germans are harvesting hastily the crops left behind.

ARTILLERY BATTLES ON WESTERN FRONT.

Bombardments, at some points attaining fairly violent proportions, and at various places small infantry maneuvers have occurred on the front in Flanders, but as yet the operations have not taken on the aspect of a contemplated resumption of the big allied drive which the bad weather of last week brought to an abrupt end.

The Canadians operating against Lens have again made thrusts of a successful nature into the environs of the already encompassed coal center, which apparently cannot long withstand capitulation. By the use of certain fires the Germans are endeavoring to keep back further encroachments here, but even with this fire against them the intrepid Canadians continue almost daily to extend their saps, and now are firmly ensconced on the south and west outskirts of the town.

The aspirations of the German crown prince to win territory against General Petain's forces on the southern front in France have not as yet been achieved. In the Champagne region the French have penetrated German lines at three places and on the famous Avocourt wood hill 304 sector of the Verdun have been put down with losses of a German attempt at an attack.

Artillery duels continue to be the chief factors of warfare in both the Austro-Italian and Macedonian theaters. Severe fighting is taking place in southeastern German East Africa. As yet it has reached no definite result, although the British have gained some ground.

TEUTONIC FORCES ARE THROWN BACK BY RUSS TROOPS

Kishinev, Russia, August 7.—Austro-German troops between the Dniester and the Pruth have been thrown back on the front 10 miles from Chotin, according to news from the battle area reaching here. Chotin is at the junction of the Zbrocz and Dniester rivers and the Galician-Russian frontier.

Petrograd, August 7.—In the direction of Kimpolung, in Bukowina, Austro-German forces, after a battle with the Russians, occupied the heights at Molit, says the official announcement issued today by the Russian war department.

In the region of the River Bystritza two Russian regiments voluntarily left their positions, causing the Russian troops to retire a few miles.

South of Grijmalove the Russians drove back the Teuton advanced posts.

In the region west of the River Zbrocz, on the Russian-Galician frontier, Austro-German troops are hastily gathering the harvest.

In the direction of Fokshani, on the Rumanian front, the forces of the central powers and their allies began an offensive and pressed back the Russian-Rumanian troops across the River Tyradesus.

The text of the statement reads:

"Western Front: To the southwest of Brody, in the region of the villages of Dube and Zarkov, the enemy is conducting an intense artillery fire. To the south of Grijmalov our advance detachments drove back one of the enemy's advanced posts.

"In the region of the west of the Zbrocz, enemy troops are hastily gathering the harvest.

"In the valley of the River Sereth, and chiefly of the River Suchava, the enemy is continuing to press back our

POLICE RAID FOUR DOWNTOWN HOTELS

Empire, Childs, Georgia and Exchange Visited Late Last Night and Numerous Arrests Made.

The first telling blow struck by the Atlanta police department against local vice conditions occurred last night at about midnight when a concerted raid was made on four downtown hotels, the Empire, corner Wall and North Pryor; the Childs', on South Broad street; the Georgia, near the corner of Broad and Mitchell streets, and the Exchange, on North Broad street.

The big raid was one of the most carefully planned and executed ever "pulled off" in Atlanta, about 30 officers figuring in the four cordons of policemen thrown about these four hotels.

The raiding forces were led personally by the highest officers of the police and detective forces and resulted in a wholesale arrest of women, men and hotel attendants.

The raid was staged as the result of recent agitation against vice by prominent citizens of the city and the state, occasioned by the nearness of the time when thousands of troops of the draft army will be located at Camp Gordon, near Atlanta.

There has apparently been an influx of women of bad character to Atlanta in the recent past and police officials are determined to keep them from plying their illicit trade with the men who will be stationed at the cantonment.

"These women must go," stated Assistant Chief Jett, who led one of the raiding parties. "This is only a starter and we are determined to rid the city of every one of these undesirable characters. The police department will do everything in its power to aid Atlanta citizens to overcome the menace, and other raids will be made until the city is cleared of them."

Arrests Made.

The Child's hotel raiding party was led by Assistant Chief Jett. The following arrests were made at this hotel: A. Sloan, negro porter, 27, 94 North Boulevard; James Lee, negro porter, 27, 65 Rawson street; Wilson Powell, 18, soldier at Camp Gordon; Daisy Green, 21, Jackson, Miss.; Robert Pierson, 26, actor, Child's hotel; J. M. Green, 28, 53 Orme street; Mrs. Florence Pierson, 30, Child's hotel.

The raiding party, which entered the Exchange hotel first, which was led by Police Captain Dobbs, made the following arrests: Lee James, 22, Baxter, Ga.; Viola Rea, 22, Birmingham; W. M. Crapps, 22, soldier at Camp Gordon; Ethel Hargraves, 26, Macon; Wash Fleming, 35, negro porter, 500 West Mitchell; Charles Leslie, 28, 260 West Hunter.

The raiding parties on the Georgia and Empire hotels were led by Sergeant Holcombe and Detective Sergeant Wakefield. The following arrests were made: Negro maid, 18, 147 Reed street; Mrs. John Spencer, 25, Georgia hotel; Ruth Reeves, 22. The last named woman was the only person arrested at the Empire.

Those arrested in the raid were carried to police station and charges of disorderly conduct lodged against them.

DAVID GILFILLAN DIES OF APOPLEXY STROKE

Was Riding Along North Boulevard With Wife When End Came.

David Gilfillan, of 650 Ponce de Leon avenue, a prominent Atlanta business man, was stricken with apoplexy in his automobile while driving along North Boulevard about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and died almost instantly.

Mrs. Gilfillan was driving the car at the time that the stroke came. A few minutes before Mr. Gilfillan had stopped on the Piedmont park bridge to change a tire and it is believed that the exertion brought on the stroke. The dying man dropped slowly forward and by the time his wife could stop the car he was dead.

Mr. Gilfillan was born in Scotland 52 years ago and came to Atlanta from St. Johns, New Brunswick. He had been the southern representative of the H. & B. American Machine company, of Pawtucket, R. I., for many years. His wife, who was Miss May Evins, is well known to the Atlanta business world herself, having been a buyer for the Davison-Paxon-Stokes company before her marriage.

Besides the widow, two sons survive, Malcombe, of Brunswick, Ga., and John F., of Atlanta. Prior to the fatal shock, Mr. Gilfillan was apparently in the best of health and his death will come as a severe shock to his numerous friends. He was a member of a Masonic lodge in St. Johns, New Brunswick.

DAVIS OUT IN FRONT IN VIRGINIA PRIMARY

J. Taylor Ellyson Second and Pollard Third in Race for Governor.

Richmond, Va., August 8.—Westmoreland Davis, of Loudon county, took lead in the race for the democratic nomination for governor of Virginia, according to returns from three-fourths of the state received up to 2 o'clock this morning. These figures showed Davis polled 20,341 votes to 15,600 for J. Taylor Ellyson, of Richmond, and 12,411 for John Garland Pollard, of Richmond.

MORE THAN THIRD OF ATLANTA QUOTA PASSED BY BOARDS

Division No. 5 May Get Number Wanted Out of Men First Called, 50 Out of 100 Passing.

THOSE NOT REPORTING ARE CERTIFIED IN ARMY

This Has Considerably Increased Number in Some Divisions—Second Calls Made by Three Boards.

That Atlanta is meeting with better success in securing its quota of 882 men for the first national army through the exemption boards was evident yesterday by reports from the various boards.

The local board for Division No. 5 (sixth ward), reported that it was meeting with greater success than anticipated, that 50 out of 100 men examined had claimed no exemption and were not physically disqualified. This ratio would furnish the quota out of the first call in this division, as the first call was based on 50 per cent of the men being exempted when the call was issued in each division for twice the number of the quota.

Reports from other boards indicate that Atlanta has already supplied as much as 35 per cent of its quota in men not claiming exemptions and men who did not report to the local boards for examination at all. Men who did not report for examinations are put into the first army the same as men who report, pass their examinations, and claim no exemptions. At first the men not reporting were not included in the figures for Atlanta's quota.

Division No. 3.

As an example of the manner in which the including of the names of men who did not report has increased the number already supplied reference is given to the experience of the local board for Division No. 3 (third ward).

The third division board started to work on the claims for exemption and discharge Monday, and during Monday and Tuesday allowed thirty and disapproved 3.

This division last night had about 100 claims still to be passed on. Twenty-seven heretofore reported as having passed physical examination filed no claims, and 21 having been notified to appear for physical examination, and failing to appear under the rules are, therefore, to be reported as if having been examined and passed. These, with, three claims disallowed, makes a total of 51 persons so far reported and ready to be reported for service. This lacks only four of being half of the quota required for this division. This number will be reduced by a few men who have already enlisted in the various branches of the army and navy, but it may also be increased by the addition of names of those filing claims but failing to make proof or having their claims disallowed.

Aldine Chambers, chairman of this board, stated Tuesday that his board expected to get over 50 per cent of its quota out of the first-call men. He further stated that a second call for men would not be issued until each man's case in the first call had been passed upon as to exemptions. From his remarks there are a number in his division who claimed exemption who will not be issued exemption cards.

Few Unconditional Discharges.

Chairman Chambers pointed out that his board is not issuing unconditional discharges to men who failed in their physical examinations except in unusual cases.

"The government expects us to secure 50 per cent of the men called," he said, "and it is our duty to come as close to this percentage as possible. I will not issue a call for more men to be examined until the government says to do so, and not until every case in our division has been passed upon as to exemptions."

C. F. von HERRMANN,
Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

ontinued its examinations, begun Monday, Tuesday. About 83 men were examined. Comparatively few exemptions were being claimed, running only about 50 per cent.

At first Chairman J. R. Nutting, of this board, thought that he would have to make several calls for men before being able to supply the quota for his division, 136 men, due to so many aliens living in his division. His experience is, though, that a large number of young men live in boarding houses and hotels in the downtown districts included in his territory, who are away from home working in Atlanta, and who have no dependents. They are the men who are claiming no exemptions. In the division serving the residential sections of the city it has been found that most of the men appearing before the boards are heads of families or are married.

Additional Calls.

Additional calls for more men were issued by several of the exemption boards Tuesday. Division No. 4 (fourth ward), called 100 more men to report for examination beginning on Thursday. This board was more fortunate than any of the other boards that have completed examinations. A little over half of the board's quota of 154 men was secured out of the first call, and the remainder is hoped to be secured out of the second call. The names of 78 men were certified to the district board Tuesday as ready for the national army.

Division No. 6 (seventh and tenth wards), mailed notices to 100 more men to appear for examination beginning Friday. The quota for this division is 88 men.

Division No. 2 issued its call for 200 more men. Only about 35 men have been secured for the national army out of this division's first call of 220 men examined.

Division No. 7 (eighth and ninth wards), will issue a call for 150 more men today. The division's quota is 136 men.

The local board for Division No. 1 (first and fifth wards), will issue a call for more men the latter part of this week.

The division's quota is 155 men, and the second call in all likelihood will be for twice this number the same as on the first call.

The district board for north Georgia, which is to have general supervision of appeal cases from the local boards, and is to pass upon occupational claims for exemptions, opened offices in Adjutant General Nash's office on Mitchell street, opposite the state capitol building Tuesday.

The following men have been certified to the district board as selected for service by four of Atlanta's local boards:

CLAIMS FOR EXEMPTION RUN HEAVY IN GEORGIA

In Laurens Only Seven Qualify Out of 183 Examined—Other Sections Report.

Dublin, Ga., August 7.—(Special.)—Out of a total of 183 men examined by the exemption board here today for army draft, a total of seven were secured, who were passed by physicians and did not claim exemptions. One was a Greek, James Gekas; one Early Miller, No. 258, in Laurens county, and five were negroes.

A little less than half of the men examined were found physically deficient, but most of them were either married or had hopes of exemption on industrial grounds, or because they were the sole support of dependent relatives.

Out of 203 called, 20 failed to come for examination. Another 203 will be examined Wednesday, and a third lot on Thursday.

One Call Only in Monroe.

Forsyth, Ga., August 7.—(Special.)—The board of examiners for Monroe county did their first day's work Monday, examining sixty-five men. The board is composed of Sheriff T. S. Holland, Ordinary G. W. Newton, Clerk of Court J. O. Ponder and Dr. J. O. Elrod. The physicians engaged in the examinations were Dr. J. O. Elrod and Dr. G. L. Alexander. Monroe county's quota to be furnished is 103 men. Two hundred and ten were called for the first examination. Of the sixty-five examined Monday only thirteen were turned down because of physical disabilities, indicating that a second call for men will not be necessary to obtain the required 103 men.

Ware's First Call Sufficient.

Waycross, Ga., August 7.—(Special.) Examination of the first 230 men from Ware county for the new national army was completed today by the local examination board. Twenty absentees were marked as accepted for the army, 44 were rejected on physical examination, and up to tonight 86 had filed claims for exemptions.

It is believed, from the list remaining, no difficulty will be experienced in securing Ware's quota of 71. An official checking, however, will be needed to determine this.

Another Call in Hall.

Gainesville, Ga., August 7.—(Special.)—An additional call will have to be made above the 400 originally called by the exemption board to secure Hall county's quota of 130 men for the national army. Out of 100 examined yesterday, 10 per cent were turned down for physical disabilities, about 10 per cent claimed no exemption, and 70 per cent claimed exemption upon dependent relatives.

Another Call in Marion.

Buena Vista, Ga., August 7.—(Special.)—Examination of the first one hundred and twenty men called before the local examining board was completed today. Eighteen qualified and filed no exemptions, twenty-eight were physically disqualified, sixty-eight filed exemptions and six failed to appear. Another call for one hundred and twenty will be made Thursday.

Heavy Claims in Sumter.

Americus, Ga., August 7.—(Special.) The physical examination of drafted men was undertaken by the local exemption board of Sumter county today, 151 men undergoing the physical tests given by three physicians. Forty-five were rejected for physical disability, and of the remaining 106, only 19 did not file notice of their intention to claim exemption. Sixteen men summoned to appear for examination did not appear, but five of these are already in the officers' training camp or have volunteered for military service. The local board has summoned 500 men to appear for examination, 167 having been called for today, a like number Wednesday and 166 for Thursday.

Tried to Bribe Examiner.

Augusta, Ga., August 7.—Wright Brown, colored, was put in jail here tonight charged by United States officers with having offered money to a member of the Burke county exemption board to bring about his disqualification for the army on the ground of physical defects.

ATTEMPTS TO BRIBE EXEMPTION BOARDS

Also Alleged Registrants Have Tried to Bribe Examining Physicians.

New York, August 7.—Steps to end exorbitant war profits reaped by notaries who frequent draft board headquarters and do a flourishing business in preparing exemption affidavits for $5 or $10 were taken here today by several of the boards which made arrangements with designated notaries to do this work for from ten to twenty-five cents fees.

Several cases of attempted bribery of board members and examining physicians, who say they were offered sums ranging from $20 to $300 to help registrants escape the draft, have been placed in the hands of the federal authorities for action.

Police Commissioner Woods today received from Secretary of War Baker an unofficial statement of opinion that members of the police and fire departments are not exempt from the draft.

New Wheat in Manitoba.

Winnipeg, Manitoba, August 7.—The first delivery of new wheat crop was made at Gretna, Manitoba, today. It graded No. 1 northern and yielded 24 bushels to the acre. This is the earliest date on record at which new wheat has been marketed in Manitoba.

300 DRAFT OBJECTORS ARRESTED IN OKLAHOMA

Majority of the People Loyal, Says Governor—Trouble Believed to Be Over.

Oklahoma City, Okla., August 7.—Confidence that a majority of the residents of central Oklahoma are loyal to the United States and willing to do military service despite organized resistance to the draft on the part of a few was expressed tonight by Governor Robert L. Williams, in commenting on the fact that normal conditions virtually have been restored in the counties where three men have been killed in the efforts of posses to quell opposition to the draft.

"I did not want to send troops in there except as a last resort," the governor said. "To let the citizens themselves put down the trouble was unassailable proof that as a whole the people were absolutely loyal and thoroughly amenable to law and order."

Fifty more draft resisters were arrested today, including two alleged leaders, "Doc" Caleb and a man named Fink. It was announced that Roy Crane, of Oak Grove, and John Bernhardt, of Wewoka, said to be organizers of the "Working Class union," were two of the men for whom the government will ask the death penalty on charges of treason. The rank and file of the men involved in the disturbance, most of them of the tenant farmer class, likely will have to face the lesser indictment of conspiracy to evade the draft. About 300 men have been taken into custody and the problem of feeding their dependents will demand attention in a few days.

ANTI-DRAFT MEETING CAN'T GET MACON HALL

Macon, Ga., August 7.—The city council tonight adopted a resolution denying the use of any public building in this city for a proposed state-wide anti-draft meeting. The council also directed the police not to permit anti-draft demonstrations or meetings of any kind.

MACON BOY IN ARMY HAS REACHED FRANCE

Macon, Ga., August 7.—(Special.)—Sergeant Clarence L. Clower, formerly of Company M, Fifth regiment, has cabled his father that he has arrived safely in France. He enlisted in Company M at the time the troops went to the border last winter, but was mustered out at the border and entered the regular army as a private in the quartermaster corps.

He was made sergeant within a short time and before going to France was stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas, for several months.

The Student Officers Pitch Tents Under Shades of Kennesaw

Three Batteries of Artillery Will Get in Some Practice Against Side of Old Georgia Mountain--Hard Day of Hiking Through the Rain.

Marietta, Ga., August 7.—(Special.)—After that terrible yesterday, in which the embryo officers suffered from the worst experiences of their hiking days and which put fourteen of them in the hospital, the student officers broke camp this morning for Vining, Smyrna, Marietta and points north.

Noon found the nine companies of infantry and one of cavalry encamped at Smyrna, while the three batteries of artillery were camping in a stone's throw of Kennesaw mountain. All the boys were mighty glad to get near a town again, for since they started from Fort McPherson, Bolton has been the biggest town to greet their vision and some didn't even see that.

When the infantry reached Smyrna they pitched camp and next bought all the general stores clear out of cakes, candies and nick-nacks, while the solitary soda fountain at Wikles' Drug store soon put up the "sold out" sign, for everything except service. Ice cream, soda water and coca-cola soon went the way of all good baked beans.

The three batteries of artillery kept on plugging through the light showers of the morning and pitched their tents near Kennesaw, where they will camp for a few days. While here they will get in some practice against the side of old Kennesaw. The infantry will join them in the morning and may stay in the vicinity of Marietta for as much as two days.

AUGUSTA ARCHITECT COMMITS SUICIDE

Augusta, Ga., August 7.—(Special.)—Harry T. E. Wendell, a prominent Augusta architect, committed suicide at a late hour Sunday night by leaping over the stair railing of the Albion hotel, landing on his head and causing concussion of the brain.

At the time of the rash act Wendell was in the custody of two police officers, having been arrested on a state warrant charging a serious offense. He had been arrested at his room in the hotel and the officers were accompanying him down the rear stairs when he threw himself over the rail to the ground, which was only about six feet below. When arrested he made no denial of his guilt of the charge preferred against him, but appeared to be distressed over the humiliation and publicity that was to follow. The coroner's jury this morning found that he committed suicide.

Wendell was 55 years of age. He was one of the most skillful architects in this section. He came here many years ago from New York, where his relatives reside. He was held in high esteem by numerous friends, and was prominently connected.

ONE OCONEE FARMER SHOOTS OTHER DOWN

S. J. Clodfelter Perhaps Fatally Wounded by T. W. Crowe, It Is Alleged.

Athens, Ga., August 7.—(Special.)—S. J. Clodfelter, of Oconee county, living near Eastville, was hurried to Atlanta today, and is in a precarious condition late this evening, a result of four pistol wounds inflicted, it is said, by Tiney W. Crowe, another citizen of Oconee.

Both are leading farmers of their section of the county. The shooting occurred about 1 o'clock in Booth's auto shop at New Eastville. It is alleged by those who were on the ground that Clodfelter was sitting in the shop when Crowe entered, pulled a Smith & Wesson .38-caliber pistol, and began firing. Two shots hit the mark, one going through the right breast, the other hitting a bone over the heart and glancing through the left shoulder. As Clodfelter ran Crowe fired another shot, it is said, hitting his victim in the back and then fired again when Clodfelter fell, the ball entering the cheek, blowing out two teeth and coming through the lower jaw.

Crowe made no effort to escape. He gave out no statement, but it is commonly reported that the men had a dispute some weeks ago over alleged attentions of Clodfelter to Crowe's wife. The men are about 40 years old.

The aged mother of Clodfelter has been critically ill for weeks and is tonight at the point of death from the shock of the tragedy.

A. M. E. Conference.

Cedartown, Ga., August 7.—(Special.) Rev. J. H. Myers, presiding elder of the Rome district of the A. M. E. church, will call together the workers of the district conference and Sunday school convention Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. The conference will be in session through Sunday night. Many negro leaders will be present and address the conference. A report of interest on negro migration from every point in the district will be read during the session and in that way the denomination hopes to find out exactly the number of members who have gone north from the church in the state.

Now Is the Best Time to Buy a Hudson Super-Six

Today's Prices are Based on Last Year's Material Costs. Present Markets Have Already Forced 51 Makers to Add $100 to $700 to Their Prices

Former $1200 and $1400 cars now cost about as much as a Hudson Super-Six.

No changes warrant such an increase. They are practically the same as the cars which recently sold at $200 to $300 less than the Hudson Super-Six.

Cars in the $2000 class and up have increased from $350 to $700. That removes them further from the Hudson Super-Six price.

Increased cost of material is responsible for the higher prices.

Hudson prices have not increased this year. Our materials were contracted for months ago. When present supplies are exhausted then Hudsons, too, must cost more. Until then Hudson, because of its value, is the lowest priced car on the market.

Here is an indication of how prices have been affected. Consider just one item.

The principal material in a fine automobile is steel. All steel is made from iron.

For 25 years before the Great War the average price of iron was a few cents over $16 a ton. In December last it was $30 a ton. It is now $54 a ton.

Makers who bought materials this year must get more for their cars than for those built of materials bought last year.

Good Fortune for Hudson Buyers

Even when other cars sold at $200 to $300 less, Super-Six sales exceedeed those of any two makes in the $1200 to $1400 class. Now that there is no such difference in price you can realize how much greater will be the demand for Hudsons. The present supply won't last long. Then Hudson, too, must cost more.

There can be no preference now that former cheaper cars cost as much as the Super-Six.

Super-Six endurance makes it the preferred among fine cars. In every revealing test it has proved endurance unequalled by any other car.

All Due to the Super-Six Motor

Hudson leadership is due to the Super-Six motor. No other motor is like it. It minimizes vibration. That increases power and lengthens motor life. Vibration is the most destructive force in a motor. All Hudson tests show how by minimizing vibration endurance is obtained. The Super-Six is the most powerful automobile motor of its size known.

No owner has yet discovered the real limits of Super-Six endurance and almost 40,000 Super-Sixes are now in daily service.

Endurance is the most wanted quality of a motor car. A car should not wear out soon. It should not require frequent mechanical attention. That Hudson has proved.

You Need No Greater Proof for Hudson

A double transcontinental run with a seven-passenger phaeton broke every previous record each way. Pike's Peak, up the highest and longest mountain road in the world, was climbed by a Super-Six special in less time than any other car. Twenty-two of the world's fastest special cars contested. A stock chassis established the record for the fastest mile. A stock Super-Six phaeton made the fastest time for one hour. Carrying driver and one passenger, car fully equipped, it traveled 100 miles at an average of 74.67 miles per hour.

A stock chassis made the greatest 24-hour long-distance run on record. It covered 1819 miles in that time and at the stop showed nothing to indicate that its endurance had been reached.

But these tests, greater than any other car ever made, were not enough to reveal the limits of Hudson endurance. Then special racing cars were built that they might compete on the speedway with the world's fastest, most carefully built automobiles. The same principle that accounts for Hudson endurance in the stock cars is included in these.

The American Speedway record for 200 miles was established by one of them at an average speed of 104 miles an hour.

That speed for that distance calls for endurance beyond that which ordinarily is needed in a lifetime's requirements. These are proofs of Hudson endurance. They indicate the service you may expect from a Hudson Super-Six. If such tests mean nothing to you because of their extremes, then think what the service to almost 40,000 users means. There can be no greater assurance than that.

There is no advantage now in buying another car, not even the apparent saving in the first cost price.

But the number of Super-Sixes that can be built from last year's material purchases is limited. If you are to get your car at the present price it must be from that number. You must decide soon.

The Phaeton costs $1650, f. o. b. Detroit. There are seven other body designs of open and closed models.

CONTROL OF FOOD TO BE VOTED TODAY

Senate Will Adopt Conference Report This Afternoon — Senators Criticise Features of Legislation.

Washington, August 7.—After another day's debate of the administration food control bill, the senate late today reached a formal agreement by unanimous consent to finally vote tomorrow at 4 o'clock on the conference report, which was approved by the house last week.

Both advocates and opponents of the legislation said tonight there was no doubt of the senate's approval of the conference report, probably by an overwhelming majority. Sending of the measure to President Wilson for his signature will be delayed until Friday, because the house adjourned today until Friday and the final draft must be signed by presiding officers of both houses.

But few speeches are expected in the senate tomorrow before the vote. Administration leader spredict that there will be less than a dozen votes finally registered in opposition. Immediately after its disposition it is planned to adopt the conference report on the first administration food bill, providing a food survey and appropriations to stimulate production. Little opposition is expected.

Many Features Criticised.

Discussion today in criticism of many features of the legislation and mostly by senators who expect to vote for the conferees' draft, apparently resulted in conviction among the opponents that further discussion would accomplish nothing.

The principal speech of the day was made by Senator Wadsworth, who said the good things in the bill outnumbered the bad ones, but protested against elimination of the provision for a congressional committee to supervise war expenditures and predicted that the $2 minimum wheat price fixing provision might not operate as its proponents believe. He urged co-operation between the legislative and administrative branches of the government and a greater degree of publicity of the conduct of the war.

The New York senator denounced the delay in the enactment of the first food bill as a breaking of faith by the government with the people.

"Some power, some person or some influence prevented the enactment of the so-called food survey bill," he said. "We are told that the delay was a piece of legislative strategy. It may be a piece of clever legislative strategy, but I say that in view of the promised word of the government, it was a breaking of good faith with the people of this country."

He added that the impression has gone out that there was more insincerity back of the food propaganda than patriotism in order to let somebody in Washington accomplish an ambition.

Congress and Public in Dark.

Deploring what he termed the "present atmosphere of criticism" that prevails in congress and throughout the country, Senator Wadsworth declared it was due to the fact that "congress is in the dark regarding how the $14,000,000,000 or $17,000,000,000 are to be spent," in connection with the war.

"Not only is congress in the dark regarding the expenditures, but the public is in the dark," he said. "It is an impossible condition under which to wage war. This is the people's war. It is not an administration war. It is not a government war. But it cannot be a people's war unless the people are taken into confidence regarding expenditures."

troops. The villages of Vaskovcy, Satulmary, Radutz, Burla and Glit were occupied by the enemy.

"Rumanian Front: In the direction of Kimpolung the enemy, after a battle, has occupied the heights to the north of the railway station of Molit. In this region the cadet corps of the Two Hundred and Sixtieth infantry regiment, under the command of Captain Luchkin, beat off several attacks of the enemy and forced them to retire in disorder. Two of our machine gunners, Protsenko and Walktrus, took prisoner a German scouting party, consisting of three non-commissioned officers and 12 privates.

"In the region to the west of Bzelin enemy attacks were repulsed. On the River Bystriza, in the region of Kotergachi and Kochnaborchei, two regiments of one of our divisions voluntarily left the positions occupied by them and went to the rear, which caused our troops to retire from this region a few versts to the east.

"In the direction of Fokshani the enemy, after artillery preparation began an offensive along the Fokshani-Marasechti railway and the Fokshani-Chiusleia road. On August 6 the enemy occupied our positions in this region, having pressed our troops back across the River Tyrlaigesus.

"Caucasus Front: No change has been reported.

"Aviation: Our airplanes dropped bombs on the railway station at Baranovichi. Successful hits were observed.

"On August 4-5 enemy airplanes made a series of flights on the coast and islands of the Gulf of Riga. Recently there has been a noticeable increase of aerial scouting and activity in the Gulf of Riga."

TEUTONS ATTACK ON RUMANIAN LINE.

Berlin, August 7.—Austro-German forces yesterday began an offensive against the Russo-Rumanian armies in Moldavia, on the Rumanian front. Russian positions north of Fokshani were stormed, according to the official statement issued today by the German general staff, and 1,300 prisoners were taken. Thirteen guns and numerous trench mortars also were captured.

The statement reads:

"Army Group of Prince Leopold: The condition is unchanged.

"Front of Archduke Joseph: In the Sereth and Suchawa valleys we gained ground as the result of fighting, and we continued to advance in the mountains in spite of stubborn enemy resistance.

"Renewed Rumanian attacks on Casinului and near the Lepsa monastery, in the Putna valley, broke down with severe losses.

"Army Group of Field Marshal von Mackensen: In a local attack Prussian and Bavarian, regiments stormed Russian positions north of Fokshani. Thirteen hundred prisoners, 13 guns and numerous trench weapons were brought in.

"Macedonian Front: There were no fighting operations on a large scale."

BRITISH CORDON BEING TIGHTENED ABOUT CITY OF LENS

British Front in France and Belgium, August 7.—(By the Associated Press.) The British lines continue to tighten about the French city of Lens, north of Arras. Canadian troops who on Saturday night pushed their positions forward approximately 200 yards along a front of a thousand yards into the western environs of the city, late yesterday added a 600 yards front of a similar depth to their defenses south and west of the outskirts of that mining center.

The Germans have been showing signs of decided uneasiness in the Lens sector for several days, as has been evidenced by their practice of throwing a curtain of fire on the British trenches each morning at dawn.

Vimy and Farbus, towns behind the British lines south of Lens, also have been shelled daily by enemy batteries.

The rest of the British front has continued in a state of comparative calm so far as infantry actions have been concerned.

Canadian Army Headquarters in France, August 7.—(By Canadian Press.)—The Canadian outposts around Lens have established a new line in a group of houses which is within a few yards of the enemy front line at that point. The Lens-Bethune road is now safely within our lines almost up to the city of Lens.

The enemy does not intend to submit to the loss of Lens without making a fight for it. While our outposts were establishing their new posts this morning the Germans turned loose a heavy artillery and machine gun barrage upon the crater recently captured and buildings near by. Sheltered by this barrage his infantry advanced upon the crater, which was only slightly held as an outpost. Our men in the crater withdrew without suffering any casualties and the Germans reoccupied it.

London, August 7.—The official report from British headquarters in France issued tonight reads:

"Beyond the usual artillery activity on both sides, there is nothing of special interest to report."

FRENCH SMASH INTO GERMAN LINES.

Paris, August 7.—French troops last night broke into the lines of the German crown prince on the Champagne front at three places, inflicting losses on the Germans and bringing back prisoners, it was officially announced today by the French war department.

A Teuton attaek between Avocourt wood and Hill 304, in the Verdun sector, was driven off with heavy losses to the Germans.

There were fairly violent artillery duels in the Bixschoote sector of the Belgian front and between Hurtebise and Craonne, north of the River Aisne.

The statement says:

"There has been fairly violent artillery fighting in Belgium, particularly in the Bixschoote sector, and north of the River Aisne, along the Hurtebise-Craonne front. The infantry was not engaged.

"In the Champagne region we penetrated the German lines at three places. This made it possible for us to inflict losses on the enemy and to bring back prisoners.

"On the left bank of the River Meuse, after a spirited bombardment, German troops this morning undertook an attack between Avocourt wood and Hill 304. Met by a violent fire from our forces, delivered with precision, our assailants were compelled to return at once to the trenches they had left after suffering perceptible losses.

"In upper Alsace there have been encounters between patrols."

The war office issued the following official statement tonight:

"In Belgium the cannonade was rather violent during the day.

"On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun region) the enemy directed an attack against our positions in the Caurieres wood. An enemy detachment which had succeeded in gaining a footing in an element of our first line was thrown back immediately by a counter attack. Intermittent cannonading occurred on the rest of the front. It was especially spirited to the west of Cerny and in the direction of Hurtebise.

"Belgian Communication: 'Some artillery activity and grenade fighting took place in the direction of Dixmude.'

"Army of the East, August 6: Moderate artillery activity has occurred on the whole of the front. Our artillery carried out a destructive fire on the enemy batteries in the Cerna bend. British aviators bombed the barracks at Limanova."

GERMAN REPORT ON WEST FRONT.

Berlin, August 7.—(Via London.)—The German official statement regarding operations on the western front today says:

"Army Group of Prince Rupprecht: In Flanders the fighting activity of our own and the enemy's artillery was only temporarily lively in some sectors. In the crater fields several engagements took place between reconnoitering parties.

"In the Artois there was an intense fire which was directed against positions between Hulluch and the Scarpe.

"Army Group of the German Crown Prince: Thrusts by Oldenburg and Wurttemberg storming troops in the Bessy ravine north of the Laon-Soissons road and near Berry-au-Bac and the Aisne brought us gains in prisoners and booty."

New Orleans, August 7.—The various district exemption boards of New Orleans reported today that approximately 350 notices mailed to registrants for the selective draft to appear for examination have been returned "unclaimed." The boards announced the names of the registrants who have failed to respond to the notices will be reported to federal authorities for action under the draft law.

ANTI-DRAFT FEELING BITTER IN MINNESOTA.

St. Paul, Minn., August 7.—Because of reports of seditious manifestations in many sections of Minnesota, the state public safety commission late today issued an appeal to all loyal citizens to join in the suppression of anti-draft sentiment. Reports indicated that the feeling of disloyalty was widespread.

"Many reports have come to the commission in the last few days of movements and meetings that threaten the public order," said the commission in its appeal.

"Right public sentiment must be organized. Loyalty meetings must smother assemblies of discontent."

Twice Chosen as the Most Beautiful Bedroom Set

A Rather Interesting Story of a Set Now Displayed Here

When one of America's greatest furniture dealers was preparing his display for the San Francisco Exposition he visited practically every reputable furniture factory in this country, looking for the one bedroom set that he could display as the most beautiful, most artistic to be found. Those few factories he did not visit personally he had send photographs of their finest—his search was thorough, exhaustive; he left nothing undone and he was a man who knew furniture, so his decision may be taken as authoritative. He chose a duplicate of the set pictured above.

Again—

When the daughter of a man of national reputation was to be married, a friend, in the furniture business, desiring to give as a wedding present the most beautiful set of furniture that he could find, chose a duplicate of the set pictured above.

Twice chosen as the most beautiful—and by men who knew!

It is displayed in the Furniture Store. You are invited to see it. It is an Adam design, solid mahogany. The carving is hand done, from the solid block, and such carving—such exquisitely fine work, but just see with your own eyes what it is!

WILSON TAKES HAND TO REDUCE PRICES

President Confers With the Trade Commission as to Progress Made in Cost Determining Work.

Washington, August 7.—President Wilson turned his attention today to the subject of war prices and paid a personal visit to the federal trade commission to urge expedition of investigations to ascertain the costs of producing materials required by the government.

At the president's direction the commission has undertaken inquiries to determine production cost on most of the basic supplies needed for war uses, including coal, coke, steel, iron, petroleum, tin, aluminum, wire, zinc, copper, lead, cement, lumber and their derivatives. Preliminary reports will be forthcoming within a few weeks.

Announcement of a definite policy respecting war purchases and prices probably will be made soon. Administration officials generally already have rather clearly-defined ideas as to the course the government will pursue. War profits will be kept to a minimum and if producers and manufacturers evince any great unwillingness to supply the country's war needs at reasonable prices the government's power to commandeer materials will be invoked.

Protection for General Public.

The biggest problem occupying officials studying war prices is protection for the general public. Although the proposal is meeting determined opposition the administration intends that the allies shall share with this government in reduced costs for supplies.

It is realized, however, that heavy government purchases will tend to raise prices to private consumers. The administration desires to keep prices generally down in an indirect way when the new war industries board begins to decide priority of manufacture and shipment of goods.

The war board will meet again tomorrow and probably will make known a buying policy so far as questions of priority and procedure are concerned. The present plan is to consolidate American and allied government war purchases through the central purchasing committee which is a part of the war board.

Slow Work by Trade Board.

Trade commission officials admit their investigation of production costs is proceeding slowly. This is due, it is said, to the fact that a great burden of work has been thrown on the commission for which it was poorly prepared.

The commission some time ago began inquiries into the fuel and lumber industries and data on production costs of these materials will be ready soon. When it started an investigation into steel it discovered it had a tremendous task. A preliminary report on steel prices, however, also will be made shortly.

Although charged only with an investigation of costs, it is entirely likely the commission will make suggestions as to what it considers fair prices for materials and that the war board will follow closely its recommendations.

GOVERNORS TO CONFER REGARDING COAL PRICES.

Chicago, August 7.—Initiative in calling a conference of the governors of sixteen states at Chicago August 16 for the purpose of taking concerted action to reduce coal prices, even to the extent of seizing the mines, was taken by the Illinois State Council of Defense.

The report of Levy Mayer, chairman of the law and legislation committee, which held that the governors have power to seize mines, was adopted.

Governors of the following states will be asked to attend the conference: Tennessee, North Dakota, South Dakota, Ohio, Kentucky, Nebraska, Missouri, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois and Kansas.

$300,000,000 OFFERED SOON OVERSUBSCRIBED

First Financing of Second Liberty Loan Proves Successful.

Washington, August 7.—The treasury's offer of $300,000,000 in certificates of indebtedness maturing November 15, first financing under the projected second offering of Liberty Bonds, was largely oversubscribed when subscriptions closed at 3 p. m. today.

The total oversubscription has not ben tabulated tonight because of delay in receiving final returns from federal reserve bank cities in the west.

The certificates bear interest at the rate of 3½ per cent and will be redeemed out of the proceeds obtained from the second offering of Liberty bonds.

It is understood that New York oversubscribed its quota of the certificates heavily.

New York, August 7.—A flat declaration in favor of municipal ownership and operation of all public utilities, including traction, gas, electricity and telephones, is the outstanding feature of the Tammany platform adopted tonight by the democratic fusion committee for the coming municipal campaign.

"It is the democratic purpose in this campaign," the platform says, "to strike a blow for true reform and we are proud to reflect that it is the first time in the history of municipal government in this country that a great political party has brought its organized strength to the service and to the support of this great principle of regeneration."

"VICE SQUAD" OF 12 IS URGED BY BOYKIN

Impossibility to Keep the City Clean Without Extra Detectives, He Says.

That the formation of a "vice squad" of not less than twelve detectives is the only means which will safeguard conditions when the cantonment is established, is the opinion of Solicitor General John A. Boykin.

A vigorous clean-up campaign is planned by the solicitor's office, and it is expected that a large number of indictments will be returned by the Fulton county grand jury against operators of disorderly houses at an early date.

"It is a hard matter to get up sufficient evidence for convictions as conditions now stand," said Solicitor Boykin, "but we are determined to put the fight through at any cost. The city detectives are doing the best that they can with their present facilities, but the work is necessarily spasmodic and unsystematic with their limited force. In the absence of a regular vice squad, it is impossible to keep things clean, but I believe that the police commissioners will soon realize that the extraordinary conditions which the addition of 40,000 soldiers will bring about will call for extraordinary measures, and that Chief of Detectives N. A. Lanford will be authorized to assign a sufficient number of men to this branch of the work to carry it out successfully."

Solicitor Boykin stated that he has been besieged recently with complaints from owners of property on Ivy street, praying for protection, declaring that the value of their property is being destroyed by the increasing demoralization of the Ivy street district.

"As the matter now stands," said Mr. Boykin, "the restricted district has simply been transferred from one part of town to another. Disorderly tenants, when forced to remove from one neighborhood, are simply given to understand that they must move to Ivy street, which they do. The situation is growing worse every day, and the expediency of an immediate remedy cannot be exaggerated."

SUES A. & W. P. ROAD FOR DEATH OF HER SON

Suit against the Atlanta and West Point Railroad company was filed in superior court Tuesday by Mrs. Annie Martin, asking for $25,000 damages for the death of her son, Reuben Kay Martin, who was killed by a passenger train of the defendant on July 14 last near Fort McPherson.

Martin, who had applied for enlistment in the army at Fort McPherson, was killed, it was alleged, when he walked from behind a freight train that had just passed in front of a passenger train on another track. Suit was filed by Attorneys Reuben E. Arnold and Ronald Ransom.

REPORT SUBMITTED ON ATLANTA-MACON ROAD

Patterson Leaves for Capital After Commission Considers Report Today.

Engineer Ed Davis, of the state highway commission, returned to the capitol Tuesday after a tour over the Atlanta-to-Macon highway and submitted his final report upon this highway project.

The highway commission will hold a meeting Wednesday and will go over the report. After the commission has passed upon it, Judge T. E. Patterson, chairman of the commission, will go to Washington in a few days to appear before the United States office of good roads in person and present the completed report of the highway commission upon the Atlanta-to-Macon project.

Engineer Davis took with him upon his tour of inspection just completed a written outline of all the data desired by the United States office of good roads, and with the guidance of this outline he has secured every item of information asked for by the federal authorities, even down to the number of houses along certain sections of the highway, including profile maps showing the location of each house.

Judge Patterson stated that he has the assurance of the federal officials that this is every bit of information desired by them and that the highway should now receive the final action of the federal officials at once and that Georgia should shortly be in position to obtain her quota of the federal good roads appropriation.

Bishop J. S. Flipper will preach during the session. Dean P. W. Greatheart will speak on "Trained Workers in Departments of the Church." Richard D. Stinson, of the Atlanta Normal and Industrial institute, will address the convention Wednesday night on "Practical Education for Negro Boys and Girls and How It Should Be Imparted.

Riley Declines to Run.

Macon, Ga., August 7.—(Special.)—J. B. Riley, one of Macon's best known business men, who was petitioned by a large number of influential men to offer for water commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the expired term of W. H. Fetner, announced today that because of pressure of other business he cannot spare the time to serve as commissioner, even if elected.

NEGRO CHURCHES UNITE IN MUSICAL FOR Y. M. C. A.

Negro churches of all denominations have united in a musical to be given at the Auditorium-Armory next Tuesday evening, August 14, for the benefit of the new Y. M. C. A. building of the colored department. Over 200 voices will compose the chorus, which has been rehearsing for several weeks. In addition there will be a male chorus of 50 voices and several selections by the Y. M. C. A. quartet. Many plantation songs will be used also. Two thousand tickets are already out, and many are still being sold.

The Y. M. C. A. is in great need of the funds, as the work has come to a standstill for lack of funs to complete the building. The negroes have already paid into this fund $25,000.

SEEKING FOR WOMAN IN LAMBERT SUICIDE

Letters Show St. Louis Millionaire Wanted to Divorce Second Wife as First.

St. Louis, August 7.—Relatives of Jordan W. Lambert told the police tonight they were sure the wealthy manufacturer, found mortally wounded in his apartment early today, committed suicide, but detectives did not lessen their efforts to reveal the identity of a woman whose telephone call to the Lambert residence, saying she feared "something had happened," resulted in the discovery of the wounded and unconscious man. They refused to say what they expected to learn from her.

In Lambert's room was found a letter from his wife, who is in the east, in which she indicated she was surprised that Lambert wanted a divorce, but that she was willing for him to have his freedom. The last sentence read:

"Let me add, in a friendly spirit, that perhaps if you took more time before considering another marriage you might be less apt to make a grave mistake."

When Man Is Infatuated.

From another letter which was undated, the signature had been torn. It was in a woman's handwriting and one paragraph read:

"As long as a man is infatuated with a woman he does not fear the eye of the multitude nor the tongue of gossip, nor anything that is in heaven or earth, save that he may get her."

The last two words were heavily underscored.

Lambert's relatives said he had been suffering from nervous trouble brought on by overwork. To his illness they attributed his suicide.

It was learned today that about 7 o'clock Monday night Lambert telephoned a woman and afterwards seemed excited.

Lambert was known as an amateur sportsman and belonged to many clubs of the country. He was 43 years old.

Lambert was vice president of the Lambert Pharmacal company, and a brother of Albert Bond Lambert, aviator and aeronaut.

Woman on the 'Phone.

Early this morning the telephone in the apartments occupied by Lambert rang, and a maid answered.

"Will you see how Mr. Lambert is?" said a woman in an excited voice at the other end of the line. "He telephoned me that he was ill."

The maid went to Lambert's room and found him lying dead in a pool of blood. A revolver lay by his side.

Lamber was divorced from his first wife. His second wife, with a baby six months old, is in New York. He was married to her in April, 1915.

Lambert had made extensive researches in clairvoyancy and other occult phenomena.

The maid, according to her story, after finding Lambert mortally wounded returned to the 'phone. "Come quick, something has happened," she declared she said to the woman who had called her. There was no answer.

Wife Denies Trouble.

Burlington, Vt., August 7.—News of the death of Jordan Wheat Lambert, who is believed to have shot himself today at his apartments in St. Louis, was conveyed to his wife, who, with her 6-months-old baby, is visiting in Hinesburg, near here. Her physician said tonight that she was in a highly nervous condition and would not be permitted to see any callers.

Mrs. Lambert came to Vermont on May 4 and since then she has been staying with relatives in this vicinity. In reply to a question put to her through her physician tonight she denied that there was any separation between her husband and herself.

It was while Mr. Lambert was taking a special course several years ago at the University of Vermont that he met his present wife, who was then Miss Bernice Kendall. She was a nurse and was engaged to care for the first Mrs. Lambert, later accompany the family when they went to Europe on account of Mrs. Lambert's health. Some time later on their return to St. Louis Lambert and his first wife were divorced and two years ago he married Miss Kendall.

MISS RANKIN ACCUSES COPPER MAGNATE RYAN

Woman Member of Congress Blames Corporation Chief for Labor Troubles.

Washington, August 7.—Responsibility for the labor troubles among metalliferous mine workers in Montana, which has curtailed the output of copper and contributed to rioting and other disturbances, was charged to John D. Ryan, of New York, president of the Amalgamated Copper company, today by Representative Jeanette Rankin in an address to the house.

Abolition of the "rustling card" system, a plan by which the amalgamated company decides which miners shall be permitted to seek work in its properties, would restore peace, Miss Rankin asserted. Her efforts to convince him of the fact by telegraph had produced no results, she said.

Miss Rankin was speaking on a resolution to give the president power to take over and operate metalliferous mines, which she offered today. It was referred to a committee.

Officials Wouldn't Act.

Miss Rankin declared she had made many futile efforts to interest federal officials in the Montana situation. After the Bisbee deportations, she said, Butte people appealed to her for help, and on the night before Frank Little was lynched in Butte, she received a particularly urgent appeal which caused her to call the secretary of labor by telephone after midnight. He asked her to see him the following day.

"I tried all the next day until late in the evening and was still trying to see the secretary on the following day when I received word that a man had been lynched," she declared.

"This rustling card system," she said, "has effectively discouraged the men from organizing. It has prevented them from obtaining the enforcement of laws requiring safety devices in the mines. It has caused them to hesitate to discuss their grievances on the outside. Conditions in the mines have grown more and more unsafe. I have had heart-breaking letters from the wives of some of the miners, saying that when their husbands went to work in the morning they never knew whether they would ever return, and that they lived in constant anxiety. On June 8, one hundred and sixty men were burned to death in a fire in one mine. This was the climax. The men stopped work.

No Safety for Workers.

"The workers knew that they would never be safe as long as the rustling card system existed. For under that system every man who complained of conditions or reported dangers or endeavored to form an organization was laid off for one reason or another, and it would be impossible for him to obtain work again in any mine in Montana or elsewhere. It is easy to see the necessity of abolishing the rustling card system."

Miss Rankin also declared that the Amalgamated Copper companies have refused to accept the 16.67 cents a pound for copper at which the government has been purchasing, and is awaiting action by the committee on war purchases.

Representative Johnson, of Washington, interrupted Miss Rankin to remark that members of the I. W. W. should not "squeal" when one of their members is hanged "by decent citizens now and then," inasmuch as they had murdered a governor of Idaho and planned the murder of the governor of Utah.

Herbert Hoover Is Asked To Forbid the Sale of Meat On Tuesdays and Fridays

Minneapolis, Minn., August 7.—A recommendation that the sale of meat be prohibited throughout the United States on Tuesdays and Fridays was adopted and forwarded to Herbert Hoover, food administrator, by the United Master Butchers of America, meeting in the annual convention here today. The recommendation also suggested that the government make an investigation into the prices of fresh and frozen fish. Speakers asserted that the prices charged for fish in the retail market were unreasonably high.

Other resolutions adopted indorse a universal 6 o'clock closing law for butcher shops, prohibiting slaughter of young animals and fowls, and a system of one delivery daily.

JUDGE SPEER UPHOLDS OUSTING OF MENDES

Macon, Ga., August 7.—(Special.)—In an order handed down in the United States district court here, Judge Emory Speer has upheld the ousting of A. deSola Mendes as general manager of the Georgia Coast and Piedmont railroad, and the appointment of his successor, G. C. Smith, a former A., B. & A. man. The change was made by the receivers who were named for the road some time ago by Judge Speer.

Th ousting of Mendes is an interesting phase of the troubles which have confronted the little railroads for some time past. Mr. Mendes fought the receivership at the time the application was filed, claiming that the road was solvent and that the receivership would be an unnecessary expense. However, Judge Speer named F. D. Aiken, C. H. Leavy and J. S. Brailey receivers. Afterward Mr. Brailey withdrew and H. L. Cohen, of New York, was appointed. From the first there had been friction between Receivers Aiken and Leavy and Mr. Mendes and on August 1 the two receivers passed an order dismissing the geneal manager and naming G. C. Smith as his successor.

Receiver Cohen did not concur in the appointment, but issued a conflicting bulletin annulling the appointing and retaaining Mr. Mendes as general manager. This resulted in Receivers Aiken and Leavy coming before Judge Speer to have their action confirmed. They charged lack of co-operation and certain irregularities on the part of Mr. Mendes.

Judge Max Isaacs, of Brunswick, is general counsel for the receivers.

DECATUR CITIZENS TO HAVE "FAIR SMOKER"

Decatur, Ga., August 7.—(Special.)—Business men and residents of Decatur are receiving invitations from the DeKalb County Fair association to attend a smoker to be held in the court room in Decatur Friday night at 8:15 o'clock to discuss the plans of the fair and the park that is now under way in Decatur.

Several hundred of DeKalb's most progressive citizens will enjoy an evening of profit and pleasure and determine the future plans of these two propositions that are now causing much interest in the county and in Decatur.

The fair association is distributing 10,000 premium booklets, printed in three colors, and containing more than $1,200 in cash prizes.

Already the entries for the fair are coming in. The grounds have been cleared and building and fencing is under way.

FULTON RUNAWAY SOUGHT IN MACON

ATHENS MAN KILLED BY FALL FROM TRAIN

Athens, Ga., August 8.—(Speecial.)—Frank Potter, a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., but in business in Athens for twelve years, connected with Michael Bros., fell from a coach window of Seaboard train No. 11, north of Monroe tonight and was killed. He left Athens two days ago for a brief trip into Carolina. The news of his death shocked his hundreds of friends in Athens. He was about 28 years old. A widow survives.

GEORGIA MILL SHIPS MEAL TO CALIFORNIA

Gainesville, Ga., August 7.—(Special.) The Gainesville Roller Mill Co. at this place possibly has the distinction of being the first milling company to ever ship meal to California. H. A. Terrell, manager of this mill, yesterday shipped two bushels of meal to W. L. Elder, general manager of the Adams Express company, at San Francisco, Cal. The original price of the meal was $4.80 and the express charges were $7.39, making a total cost to the consumer of $12.39. This company shipped to Athens alone $14,700 worth of meal last month.

Only Cash Needed For One to Secure British Honors

Alleged That Rank Failures Pay and Get Honors. Money Goes to Those Who Sell the Honors.

London, August 7.—There was a lively dicussion in the house of lords tonight on alleged scandals connected with the distribution of honors. The Earl of Selborne, calling attention to the bestowal of honors in return for contributions to party funds, moved that hereafter the reasons for rewards should be published and the premier in recommending recipients should satisfy the sovereign that no payment or expectation of payment was associated with the recommendation. The house came to no vote on the subject.

Earl Curzon, government leader in the house of lords, deprecated the course proposed on behalf of the government as calculated to deter wealthy men from charitable contributions on the fear that they would come in under unworthy subscriptions.

Supporters of the motion, including Baron Beresford and Baron Charnwood, urged the adoption of the American system of auditing and publishing party funds. Baron Beresford said that a large portion of the money went not into party funds, but into the pockets of those who offered the honors for sale. He added that this war would be famous for the large numbers of honors and awards bestowed upon people who had failed disastrously.

Earl Curzon admitted the gravity and importance of the subject, but said there was exaggeration. He said that the number of cases of alleged purchase bore such a small proportion to the total as not to pollute the stream seriously. Experience showed the desire to found a family and confer distinction on descendants was widespread in democratic sections of the community and he considered that the democratization of honors as in recent years ought to be encouraged because it was a great safeguard of public life.

MACON DETECTIVES ARE EXONERATED

Macon, Ga., August 7.—(Special.)—The civil service commission, which controls the local police department, tonight held that two city aldermen, Frederick Miller and W. R. Evans, had failed to prove their charges, made in open council, that the three city detectives had received money from the county for assisting in enforcing the prohibition law, and the detectives were exonerated of the charges.

City council had asked the commission to investigate the action of the three detectives in publishing a card in one of the local papers bitterly scoring the two aldermen named. The commission took the position, however, that the detectives were justified in writing the card.

ANOTHER WAR LOAN FOR GREAT BRITAIN

Authority Given by Commons to Borrow Another $1,250,000,000 from U. S.

London, August 7.—Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, introduced in the house of commons today a formal resolution authorizing the treasury to borrow another 250,000,000 pounds on the security of the consolidated fund of the United Kingdom, and announced that a war loan bill for this purpose will be introduced within a few days. The resolution was adopted.

In the house last Thursday Mr. Bonar Law said that a loan bill would be required during the parliamentary recess because the government would "have to give the American government long dated notes in exchange for a loan received from them, and the treasury's power to issue such notes was limited by the last bill and is not sufficient to carry us through the recess."

SOCIETY

Governor and Mrs. Dorsey Entertain General Assembly

Governor and Mrs. Dorsey entertained the general assembly of Georgia and the members of the families of the solons at a brilliant reception at the executive mansion last evening, the party assembling at 8 o'clock. Invited to meet the guests were many of Atlanta's most prominent people among the friends political and social of the new governor and his family, and the occasion was one most interesting and enjoyable.

The receiving party included only Governor and Mrs. Dorsey, the president of the senate, Hon. Samuel Olliver, Speaker of the House Hon. John Holder and Mrs. Holder, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Howell.

Assisting in entertaining the five hundred or more guests were members of the family of Governor and Mrs. Dorsey and a group of their friends, among them Mrs. J. M. Wilkinson, of Valdosta; Mrs. R. T. Dorsey, Mrs. R. T. Dorsey, Jr., Mrs. Cam Dorsey, Mrs. Roy Dorsey, Mrs. T. B. Yow, of Lavonia; Mrs. Luther Rosser, Jr., Mrs. Walter Douglas, of Savannah; Mrs. John K. Ottley, Mrs. Albert Howell, Mrs. Clark Howell, Mrs. W. T. Shallenberger, Mrs. Philip Alston, Mrs. Hugh Spalding, Mrs. Malcolm Fleming, Mrs. Prince Webster, Mrs. Hudson Moore, Mrs. Hunt Chipley, Mrs. Forrest Adair, Mrs. G. A. Howell, Mrs. Robert Gregg, Mrs. Walter Andrews, Mrs. G. Arthur Howell, Mrs. Spencer Atkinson, Mrs. Hollins Randolph, Mrs. Edward Brown, Mrs. McWhorter Milner, Mrs. Harry Hodgson, of Athens; Mrs. W. S. Witham, Mrs. Nym McCullough, Mrs. James L. Riley, Mrs. Fred Lewis, Mrs. George McCarty, Jr., Mrs. Frank West, Mrs. Joseph E. Brown, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, Mrs. Byron Bower, Mrs. James D. Robinson, Mrs. F. J. Paxon, Mrs. E. L. Connally, Mrs. Ivan Allen, Mrs. Asa Candler, Miss Ida Hightower, Miss Nellie Hightower, Miss Isma Dooly, Miss Marjorie Brown.

A Bright Hospitality.

The uncertainty of the weather and the desire of Mrs. Dorsey to have if possible the entertainment out of doors, combined to produce a decorative scheme which made of the old mansion and grounds a picturesque scene, for the weather-beaten walls of the exterior were well covered with the national colors and the shade trees of the yard were illuminated with electric lights, while within the walls were hung with the national colors. Banks of palms on 11 sides pleased the eye, and the mantels were banked with beautiful flowers. The mirrors in the hallway were hung with smilax and reflected the draperies of red, white and blue hung from the archway in the middle of the hall. The arched doorways were hung with flags and in the reception rooms the glory of the Stars and Stripes were reflected on all sides.

Garden flowers filled espergnes and baskets, and in the dining room a table from which dainty confections were served had a center piece of flowers in red roses, lilies and ageratum.

Pretty Costumes.

Mrs. Dorsey, in her youth and stateliness, was a charming hostess, expressing in her hospitality the womanly grace and sweetness which distinguishes her on all occasions. She wore a flesh-colored satin gown with draperies of tulle, and carried orchids and pink roses. Mrs. Holder was handsomely gowned in a pink silk crepe gown combined with cloth of silver and silver lace. Mrs. Albert Howell wore a white chiffon and lace gown.

Mrs. J. M. Wilkinson, mother of Mrs. Dorsey, wore a black marquisette gown embroidered. Mrs. R. T. Dorsey, the governor's mother, wore black satin and lace.

The Al Fresco Picture.

The guests were received by Governor and Mrs. Dorsey in a pergola arranged on the right of the lawn, near the porch, the pergola with its white columns hung with smilax and garlands of roses making an effective setting for the receiving party. Hanging baskets filled with flowers hung between the columns, and pedestals held similar baskets hung with flowers, through which showed starlike many shaded electric lights.

Under flower-trimmed canopies were tables upon which were bowls of delicious punch, the bowls embedded in ferns and vari-colored flowers. Refreshments were served buffet fashion, and there were chairs and small tables at which guests gathered in informal groups. In the trees rose-shaded lights were to be seen and a garland of these lights hung in the border of young pine trees which screened the Cain street side of the mansion grounds and the front.

An orchestra of music provided delightful entertainment, a feature of the musical program being a brilliant presentation of the national anthems of the allies, concluding with the "Star Spangled Banner."

For Visitors.

Miss Leona Glass entertained at a matinee party at the Grand Tuesday afternoon in honor of her guest, Miss Ruby Berry, of Waycross, and Miss Floride Jones and her guests.

Those invited were Misses Ruby Berry, Floride Jones, Dorothy Jones, of Newnan; Lucile Ginn, of Ashland, Ky.; Anna Murray, of Americus; Mary Lou Barge, Ethel Smith, Mary Andrews, Lucile Chancellor, Lonnie Benson, Ruth Benson and her guests, Lucy Veal, of Austell, and Mary Glover, of Americus.

At the Driving Club.

The tea this afternoon at the Piedmont Driving club will be the occasion for a number of bright parties.

Mrs. Claude Buchanan will entertain in compliment to the guests of Mrs. T. J. Hightower, Jr., Mrs. Cheatham Owens, of Shelbyville, Ky., and Mrs. Robert Bohanan, of Springfield, Tenn.

The guests will include Mrs. Owens, Mrs. Bohanan, Mrs. T. J. Hightower, Jr., Mrs. Lena Swift Huntley, Mrs. Thomas Morgan, Mrs. J. O. Mathewson, Mrs. Wyeth, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. S. C. Dinkins.

Miss Nellie Dodd will be hostess at a large party, the guests to include members of the younger set.

A party will be given in honor of Mrs. James Champion, of Albany, who is spending the month of August with her mother, Mrs. Carrie Robinson Stewart, by Mrs. Henry Ewing Dean.

Miss Sarah Cain, of Columbia, S. C., who is the guest of Miss Janet Hatcher, will be honor guest in a party given by Miss Margaret McCarty.

Mrs. Strother Fleming will compliment Miss Floride Jones and her guests, Misses Dorothy Jones, of Newnan; Lucile Ginn, of Ashland, Ky., and Anna Murray, of Americus.

Mrs. Edward Cabaniss, of Birmingham, Ala., the guest of Mrs. Georgia Cabaniss, will be honor guest at a party given by Mrs. Edwin A. Peeples.

For Mrs. Corbin.

Mrs. William Schroder will entertain at luncheon today at the Piedmont Driving club in compliment to Mrs. Clifford L. Corbin, of Washington, D. C.

On account of the inclement weather the ice cream festival to have been given by the ladies of St. John's church on Tuesday, August 7 has been postponed until Tuesday, August 14.

Mandolin and Guitar Club.

The Girls' High School Alumnae Mandolin and Guitar club held the first meeting of the summer last week at the home of Miss Martha Bloodworth. The officers of this interesting club were elected as follows: Miss Martha Bloodworth, president; Miss Marguerite Fischer, secretary; Miss Elizabeth Corrigan, treasurer. The next meeting will be held with Miss Sara Mellichamp at her home, 595 Piedmont avenue, on Wednesday, August 8, at 9:30 a. m.

All members are urged to be present.

For Visitor.

Mrs. E. T. Jones entertained twenty guests last night at her home on Greenwood avenue in compliment to Mrs. Joseph Seabrook, of Edisto Island, who is the guest of Mrs. H. A. LaPorte, and for Miss Mary Lee Chapman, of Knoxville, Tenn.

Y. W. C. A. Camp.

Since the camping season opened the middle of June, there have been entertained at the Y. W. C. A. camp at Woodland 208 guests, and the schedule for the remainder of the summer is crowded for the week-end parties. There are a few openings for mid-week engagements, and those interested are requested to call up the Y. W. C. A. office. The association is anxious to extend the privileges of the camp to as many as possible of its club members and the business young women generally of the city, as well as its gymnasium girls and their friends.

The past week Mrs. E. T. Booth was chaperon for a party of West End girls, members of the Park Street Methodist Episcopal Church Young People's society and a group from Miss Eloise Mobley's class. Following were the members of the party: Misses Evelyn McGahee, Margaret Ford, Ruth Kelly, Mary Crusselle, Margaret Smith, Willette Matthews, Dorothy Duggan, Ruby Chapman, Nell Stewart, Vivian Corum, Elizabeth Hale, Sarah Matthews, Marthe Matthews, Nell Clayton, Christine McEachern, Mrs. E. T. Booth, John and William Booth, Misses Eloise and Bessie May Mobley, Elizabeth Crusselle, Edward Bunn and Mrs. A. H. Hale.

The week-end party was a group of young ladies, members of Mrs. Archibald Davis' class in the North Avenue Presbyterian church, with a few friends.: Misses Marguerite and Roberta Booth, Ruby McGaughey, Alice Warnock, Clara Belle Lemke, Megara and Lena Waldron, Willie Ascher, Grace Titman, Mary Lumpkin, Louise Cramer, Corree Hunnicutt, Frances Moss, Margaret Holt, Lois Freeman and Sue Hill.

Dancing Party.

The guests invited include a club of which the young hostess is a member and an equal number of boys. The young girls who are members of the club are Misses Janet Millis, Margaret Morgan, Fredericka Wade, Phyllis Wilkins, Lucile Hall, Flora Bell Reynolds, Sarah Hollehan, Charlotte Dixon, Annie Jennings and Miriam Clarke.

Camping Party.

The following young people are camping at Lake Bennett: Miss Grace Keener, Miss Helen Smith, Miss Katherine Wood, Miss Ruth Caverly, Miss Lily Sitton, Miss Olive DeFoor, Miss Rudy Parker, Joe Keener, Lewis Wood, Dr. J. G. Mizelle, J. Howard, Gene Caverly, Professor Phillips, Eldon Brewster, Wallace Sitton, S. E. Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Mercer Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Wisler Sharpe, Mrs. Chip Roberts and Mrs. Si Connally.

Gamble-Weddel.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gamble announce the marriage of their daughter, Wilmirth, to Mr. Reid Weddell on August 1 at their home on Myrtle street. Dr. Dunbar Ogden, of the Central Presbyterian church, officiated and only the family and a few friends were present at the ceremony.

Afternoon Tea.

Mrs. T. J. Hightower, Jr., entertained at a pretty tea Monday afternoon at her home, "Glen Hays," on peyton road, in compliment to her sisters, Mrs. Robert Bohannon, of Springfield, Tenn., and Mrs. Cheatham Owens, of Shelbyville, Ky. The tea table had its decoration in pink, the centerpiece an artistic basket of pink roses. Mrs. Hightower wore white Georgette crepe. Mrs. Bohannon was gowned in white Georgette crepe embroidered and Mrs. Owens wore apple green Georgette crepe. There were twelve guests.

Concert at Ft. McPherson.

A beautiful program of music will be given this evening at 8 o'clock at Y. M. C. A. hut No. 3 at Fort McPherson for the entertainment of the members of the Seventeenth artillery. A committee from the Atlanta Woman's club have given concerts at the post each week during the summer heretofore for the student officers. Miss Ethel Behre will be in charge of the program Wednesday evening and among those contributing to it will be Miss Bessie Voorhes, violinist. A concert will also be given on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Knitting Committees To Meet.

Mrs. T. T. Stevens, president Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., calls a meeting of the chairmen of hospital equipments this morning in parlors D and E of the Ansley hotel, at 10:30 o'clock. The meeting is important, and each chairman and those interested in the work are asked to be present.

Mrs. C. Helen Plane, chairman of the knitting committee of Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., calls a meeting on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at her residence, 645 Ponce de Leon avenue, of her committee. Mrs. Plane requests those to whom she has given wool and those who have requested wool of her, to be present at the meeting on Thursday morning.

RED CROSS SHOWER BY WOMEN'S CLUBS A GREAT SUCCESS

The linen shower given for the Red Cross under the auspices of the City Federation of Women's Clubs which closed at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon was a great success. Hundreds of articles have already been received and a large sum donated, but it will be some days before all the returns are in.

The latest report coming from the Red Cross rooms at the Kimball house gives the following report: One-half dozen dimity spreads, 68 dozen pillow cases, 119 sheets, 81 yards of sheeting, tubing for one and one-half dozen pillow cases, 44 face towels, 13 bath towels and over $150 donated to buy materials.

The chairman of the shower committee, Mrs. L. E. Chalenor, and her committee are very much gratified over the result and they wish to express their appreciation to their friends and the good people of Atlanta who have helped in this patriotic work.

SICK WOMAN HAD CRYING SPELLS

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Enhaut, Pa.—"I was all run down and weak inwardly. I had female troubles and nervous feelings and my head bothered me. I would often have crying spells and feel as if I was not safe. If I heard anyone coming I would run and lock the door so they would not see me. I tried several doctors and they did not help me so I said to my mother 'I guess I will have to die as there is no help for me.' She got me one of your little books and my husband said I should try one bottle. I stopped the doctor's medicine and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It soon made a change in me and now I am strong and do all my work."—Mrs. AUGUSTUS BAUGHMAN, Box 86, Enhaut, Pa.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

If you would like free confidential advice address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Buy and Boost Home Products

¶ Never has there been a time when it was more to the interest of all people to buy and boost the products made in their home community.

¶ It is a good, sound principle at any time, but just now it means more of patriotism and more of protection than ever before. Many of the articles made in your home community, some of which are named below, are articles in daily common use, and every dollar you spend for them, in preference to "imported" articles, is keeping that much money at home.

¶ In the manufacture of these articles employment is given to the workers in your home community. Spending your money for these things is helping to educate the children in your home community. It is lessening the calls on charity, and is making it easier for the money maker of the family to become independent.

¶ The prosperity of every individual merchant, dealer or manufacturer is largely dependent, first, on the patronage he receives from his home people. With his growth and prosperity comes his ability to employ more men and women in the manufacture of his goods. Thus, it is to the advantage of every one---where articles are just as good and just as cheap in price---to buy, first, what they can get from home manufacturers.

¶ Call for these goods next time:

$40,000 SUBSCRIPTION BY STATESBORO BANK

Statesboro, Ga., August 7.—(Special.) Another evidence of the financial condition of the banks of Statesboro was shown today in a telegram from the Bank of Statesboro to the federal reserve bank in Atlanta, announcing that the Bank of Statesboro would subscribe $40,000 of treasury certificates of indebtedness.

This makes two large loans by Statesboro banks within the past few days, the former being a few days ago when the Bank of Statesboro and Sea Island bank put in the highest bid for the entire bond issue of the City of Statesboro, amounting to $60,000, the two local institutions bidding $62,000.

As an evidence of Statesboro's financial standing, since the two local banks have purchased the bonds they have received letters and telegrams from outside capitalists wanting to know how much they would resell the bonds for.

In each instance the reply has been that the bonds were bought as an investment and they did not wish to dispose of them.

NO MERCY IN GLYNN FOR PROHI VIOLATORS

Brunswick, Ga., August 7.—(Special.) Judge D. W. Krause, of the city court of Brunswick, issued a warning to the prohibition violators of Glynn county in his court late yesterday afternoon when he sentenced Henry Bradham, a young white man, to serve twelve months on the chaingang without the alternative of paying a fine. This is taken as an indication that others to be tried on the same charge and convicted may expect a similar sentence.

Bradham was caught several days ago with an automobile load of whisky near his home at the cypress mills, and the officers had evidence that he had been selling it for some time. When the jury returned a verdict of guilty, the judge at once passed sentence, and the young man will be compelled to serve a year on the county chaingang.

CUTHBERT WAREHOUSE BURNED WITH COTTON

Cuthbert, Ga., August 7.—(Special.)—Last night the A. J. Moye warehouse was practically destroyed by fire, which was discovered about 9:30 o'clock. Soon the interior was a mass of flames, and an explosion, caused by the heat and the airtight walls, it is supposed, wrecked the roof and one of the walls.

About 375 bales of cotton were stored there, and these were all more or less damaged. A. J. Moye had just sold about 800 bales and more than half of this had been shipped out during the day. Sawyer Brothers had sold fourteen bales yesterday, but it had not been removed. Mrs. L. E. Gay had fifty bales and N. M. Weaver three or four bales.

While the damage will amount to well up in the thousands, it will be partially covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Gilmer; Unadilla, W. H. Beddingfield; Union Point, Josephine Hilliard; Whigham, B. A. Parker; Winder, William B. McCants; Woodbury, B. T. Baker.

GERMANY ASKS GOLD FROM SWITZERLAND

Demand Proves German Money Difficulties—Switzerland Resists Demand.

Washington, August 7.—Confirmation has reached the state department of the report that Germany has demanded a loan in gold from Switzerland in return for coal. In official circles here this is taken as emphasis to the stories of German difficulties.

Germany is in sad need of gold to meet the obligations which she has incurred with those neutrals with whom she can trade, for German paper money is no longer in favor and the value of the German mark is depreciating almost to the vanishing point.

Switzerland is resisting the demand and if it is pressed she is in far better shape than Holland or the Scandinavian countries to meet either military of economic aggression from Germany.

AMUSEMENTS.

Loew's Grand.

The Three Creighton Girls, former Atlantans, came to Loew's Grand theater with many friends already living in Atlanta, but they go away with literally thousands of friends, whom they have won by their charming act as headliners of the vaudeville bill. These three pretty sisters have "come back home" from Rector's cabaret in New York and they have brought the latest hits of Broadway with them. They will be seen for the last time at Wednesday's performance. Go see them. Also do not fail to see the funniest fall in the world, which is the specialty of Abe Shapiro, of Bush and Shapiro. There are also other good things on the bill, including Paul and Pauline, an extraordinary acrobatic act, and Fredericks and Palmer in a bit of summery foolishness. The big photo-drama is Arthur Ashley and Gerda Holmes in a thrilling story of mixed marital relations called "The Iron Ring." Lew's Universal Weekly shows the big happenings of the world at home and abroad.

"Trovato."

(At B. F. Keith's Lyric.)

The magnetic eccentricities and musical abilities of Trovato, genius of the violin, are giving him the lion's share of honors on a splendid program that will be seen at B. F. Keith's Lyric today only. Other acts are Hendrix and Belle Isle in the comedy, "The Schoolmaster;" Hazel Moran, expert with the lariat; Reddington and Grant in a bouncing turn and La France and Kennedy, blackface comedians. Theo and Her Dandies in vaudeville's most spectacular aerial song novelty will top the new show opening Thursday matinee. Morlin, accordion expert and colorful "Impressions of Art," will be among other features.

Jackie Saunders.

(At the Vaudette.)

Jackie Saunders, the Mutual star, returns to the screen of the Vaudette theater today and Thursday in "A Bit of Kindling." She is cast as a little newsgirl and named "Sticks," which furnishes the source for the title of the picture. In the story, through the vicissitudes of fate, she is compelled to sell newspapers in competition with street gamins. One day a dissolute young man of wealth is attacked by the street roughs and "Sticks" goes to his assistance. He becomes interested in the young girl, and, although she continually tries to evade him, it is a case of love on both sides. He pursues her until she capitulates and finally they are married.

"Big Timber."

(At Alamo No. 2.)

The fact that Kathlyn Williams, the noted Morosco star, and Wallace Reid, the popular young Lasky star, will be seen together at the Alamo No. 2 today in the Morosco-Paramount production, "Big Timber," a picturization by Gardner Hunting, of Bertrand Sinclair's famous story, is bound to be of unusual importance.

The story has to do with the loveless marriage of Stella Benton, a young society girl, and Jack Fyfe, owner of the big timber.

The cast supporting Miss Williams and Mr. Reid includes such well-known players as John Burton, Alfred Paget, Joe King and Helen Bray. The production was staged under the personal direction of William H. Taylor, and the photography is wonderfully beautiful.

Virginia Pearson.

(At the Odeon.)

Plots by foreign spies and thrilling detective work by the American secret service keeps the action of "Wrath of Love," the latest Virginia Pearson production for William Fox, always on the double quick. This picture will be shown at the Odeon theater today only. Jealousy arising from perfectly innocent situations wrecks a woman's happiness and she is only saved from a desperate act by the return from war of the man who is to marry the young lady in the story who has caused much of the jealousy. Included in the cast are Louise Bates, Irving Cummings, Nellie Slattery and Frank Glendon. "His Perfect Day" is the comedy listed for today.

"By Right of Possession."

(At the Strand.)

"By Right of Possession," at the Strand theater today and Thursday, is a Vitagraph production and is a story of love and politics, with Mary Anderson and Antonio Moreno in the feature roles. A real cattle stampede, a mine cave-in and the bursting of a dam provide thrills that grip as shown in this picture. There is an extraordinary appeal to women by reason of the situation in which a girl is elected sheriff. This, added to the rapid fire action, makes "By Right of Possession" one of the livest photo-dramas of the present week. Miss Anderson, who plays the leading role, is one of the youngest stars upon the screen, being barely 20 years old. She has been seen in a number of Vitagraph productions.

U. S. AIRMEN PICKED FOR ALLIED SCHOOLS

Paris, August 7.—It was announced at the American aviation service today that American airmen had been picked to enter British, French and Italian aviation schools in order to complete their training at the earliest possible moment. The problem of sending the most efficient airplanes has been solved in part by the purchase of all available materials from the entente allies, thus permitting the Americans to begin their aerial operations much sooner than otherwise would be the case. The service has been divided into purchasing and operating divisions.

Officers in the American service emphasize their belief that nothing should interfere with the aviation plans of the United States. The officers say that where one man is needed in the reserve for each man in the trenches, in aviation, to insure American protection and supremacy, it is estimated that five reserve men are needed for each man flying.

EXPERT TO OPERATE GOVERNMENT SHIPS

Washington, August 7.—An operating department will be created soon by the shipping board to operate all government-owned merchant ships. The board hopes to get the service of one of the country's foremost shipping experts. Several names are under consideration.

The head of the new department will be known as director of operation, and will have under him a large staff.

The department probably will be put under a committee, whose membership would comprise two or more members of the board and Rear Admiral Capps, manager of the Fleet corporation.

The board still has under consideration its plan for requisitioning American ships now on the seas. An announcement will be made as soon as legal technicalities have been straightened out.

RUSSIA ABOUT AS QUIET AS THE UNITED STATES

Elihu Root Ridicules Stories of Disorder—Has Faith in Russ Ministry.

Chicago, August 7.—Elihu Root, with other members of the American mission to Russia, in Chicago, said that as a matter of fact, there is scarcely more disorder in Russia than there is in the United States.

Certain disturbances are inevitable in change of government so radical as that of Russia, said Mr. Root, "and cable dispatches deal largely with these disturbances. Hence the public has gained an impression that there is little going on in Russia except demonstrations. If reports on American affairs dessiminated in Russia concentrated on our own little disturbances such as race riots, the I. W. W. and like, Russia would have about the same picture of us as we now have of them.

"I have faith in the Russian ministry and in the Russian future as an important element in the aims of the allies. Russian women are doing a wonderful work in shaming the men into fighting, and where necessary I hope American women will follow their example."

WAR COSTING CANADA ABOUT $850,000 DAILY

Ottawa, August 7.—Canada's war expenditures are about $850,000 a day, the total to July 20 being $623,000,000, according to figures made public today. This sum includes up-keep of Canadian troops in France, for which Canada owes Great Britain $272,000,000. Advances to the munitions board amount to $288,000,000, while $22,000,000 was spent for hay, cheese, flour, etc. Canada is supplying about $10,000,000 a month to buy cheese and contributing $25,000,000 a month to the imperial treasury for the purchase of munitions in Canada.

CONDITION OF W. H. TAFT REPORTED AS IMPROVED

Clay Center, Kan., August 7.—The condition of William H. Taft, who became ill here last night, was announced by his physicians late today as improved, but it was uncertain whether the former president would be able to resume his speaking tour at Lincoln, Neb., tomorrow. Mr. Taft was stricken suddenly last night with stomach trouble.

MEET TODAY'S NEEDS FIRST.

Council has before it a general plan to seek a water supply from a source some fifty or sixty miles distant, which would entail the complete abandonment of the present water equipment, an expenditure of something like $8,000,000 and, of necessity, several years' time.

As a means of meeting the requirements of the future, when Atlanta will be much larger than it is today, the scheme is all right; in fact, it is very probable that it, or a similar one, will eventually be worked out and put into operation. And it is a good thing to have in mind and for the citizens to be thinking about.

But the author of the resolution broaching the plan, Alderman J. H. Ewing, very wisely says in a supplementary statement appearing in another column of this issue, that in his opinion the first duty of council is "to make a careful survey and research with regard to our present system, and safeguard against any shortage of water that might prove disastrous to our welfare," and, secondly, "to make a complete survey and research for the purpose of improving and permanently extending the waterworks to meet the growth of a growing city."

Eight million dollars is a lot of money, and at best several years must elapse before such an ambitious plan as that proposed could be worked out and made efective.

In the meantime the needs of today must be looked after—even if the other improvement were assured.

The seriousness of the present and immediate future water supply problem is increased by the fact that 2,500,000 gallons daily in addition to the needs of the city must be furnished to the army cantonment camp under construction at Silver Lake and soon to be occupied.

Our pumping facilities are admittedly out of date and worn to a point where a complete breakdown is a daily peril. Not a new engine nor pump has been installed for years. The plant is inadequate, and there is an ever-present danger of its proving inadequate to meet demands, leaving the city without water for protection against fire or for commercial and domestic use.

The very first duty before council, therefore, is to remedy existing conditions—to provide for the present and immediate future. And this is an imperative duty!

It is all well enough to be thinking out ambitious plans for the distant day, but immediate needs must be cared for and immediate perils safeguarded against.

AUTUMN LEAVES FOR DYES.

One of the commercial problems—one of the biggest ones, in fact—growing out of the war's disorganization of trade and industry has been solved, according to expert opinion, by a woman.

The problem was where might the world look for dyes to take the place of the aniline product formerly supplied by Germany almost exclusively, and the woman who is said to have solved it is Mrs. Edith O'Neil MacDonald, of Albany, N. Y., who has discovered a process whereby to rob autumn leaves of their brilliant hues and convert their pigments into commercial dyes to supply the world.

Since the first autumn men and women—beginning, so far as we know, with Adam and Eve—have been enraptured with the colorful glory of the autumn leaves. Poets and lovers have reveled in them, and they have been employed as the basic material for songs galore; but, strange to say, they have been put to no really utilitarian use except, perhaps, by nature, in the manufacture of humus.

At last, however, the inquiring mind, the intuition and the ingenuity of woman, according to the best of authority, succeeded in penetrating beyond the fanciful and simple beauty of the leaves, and unlocked the gilded door to their hidden value as a commercial by-product of plant food and sunshine!

Mrs. MacDonald made her discovery in the fall of 1916. She says that she was deeply perturbed by the "dye famine" which threatened America when the German supply was cut off, and, like some thousands of male chemists and investigators, employed considerable time and attention toward finding a source of dye supply at home. Describing how she was at last rewarded, and in the way least to be expected, she says:

> I looked at everything through color glasses, so to speak. I read newspapers, magazines and technical journals and searched my immediate surroundings for something that looked like dye. An October windstorm tore the leaves from the trees. Rain saturated them and glued them to the cement walks. Sun-dried, the breezes blew them away. At sight of the dainty brown prints outlined on the walk I leaped to the possibilities they might contain. I gathered an armful of leaves, and in twenty-four hours I had an array of tints of gold that outrivaled the sunshine-gold, that would neither boil out, wash out nor fade out, though I tried it in weeks of sunlight.

Under the tutelage of Dr. Thomas H. Norton, United States dye expert, Mrs. MacDonald made a thorough study of dyeing and textile chemistry. In six weeks she had finished a demonstration that is reported to have contained "every possible shade ranging from a shimmering, glistening gold to the darkest seal brown, as well as grays and taupes." She used in this demonstration wool, cotton, silk, velvet, feathers and paper, and she also demonstrated the use of the solid extract as an ink and water-color paint.

Then the patent office instituted a most thorough investigation of her claims to discovery, proved the merit of it by federal tests and experiments, and recently she was granted the patent she applied for months ago.

Thus, if federal experts know whereof they prophesy, it will not be long before the great masses of leaves from oak, maple and other trees that annually litter the walks and cumber the earth following the fulfilment of their function on the trees and when the first fall frost bids them let go, will be given a real commercial value at the "autumn leaves dye factory."

The inventor argues that besides being cheap and plentiful the raw material supply for the new dye is practically inexhaustible, because the leaves form in new crop annually without destruction of the source of supply-product, as is the case with roots, bark or coal tar. So there should be no worry about an adequate supply while forests last, and, Mrs. MacDonald observes further, "there is no waste, as the residue can be used for fertilizer."

Thus woman has, it would seem, added another to her long list of triumphs; and accomplished it very fittingly, primarily through her alert eye for the beautiful, and in utilizing a natural commodity never before thought of, perhaps, because it was so common and close at hand!

SHOULD NEED NO FORCING.

Citizens living north from Sixth street and patronizing the West Peachtree car line have petitioned the state railroad commission to compel the Georgia Railway & Power company to extend the West Peachtree car service to Brookwood, alleging intolerable inconvenience because of the crowded condition of the Buckhead cars, upon which they must depend for transportation to and from the heart of the city.

This crowded condition of the cars, allege the petitioners, has materially increased since the Camp Gordon cantonment site was fixed and work thereon commenced, and it will become far more crowded when the recruits are mobilized.

It is a pity that these citizens find it necessary to petition the railroad commission at all, for certainly no compulsion should be required to bring a grant of a concession so clearly in the interest of good service.

As matters now stand, the West Peachtree car line terminates at Sixth street, beyond which patrons along the line have access to only the Buckhead cars. The Peachtree cars run no farther than Brookwood, near the northern intersection of Peachtree and West Peachtree, so that all of the street car patrons on Peachtree, north from Brookwood, and those on West Peachtree between Brookwood and Sixth street, have to depend upon the Buckhead cars.

It will be only a short time until the Southern Railway's new passenger station at Brookwood will be completed and in use, when the traffic strain upon the Buckhead cars will be still further increased.

It would seem that the duty of the company plainly is to extend its West Peachtree car service as far as Brookwood; and certainly it should require no official compulsion to bring about this improvement in service.

A CAR OF CORNBREAD.

A patriotic food grower, who is doing his bit to increase the home and national supply, as well as giving encouragement to others in the great world-work of making the land productive, has a communication in the Campbell (Ga.) News, in which he says:

> Will you stop a minute and figure on the probable cost of a car of cornbread? It's no longer a joke about the cost of living being high and no one realizes it more fully than does the man who has a bushel of corn meal to buy. We are prouder every day of our life that we have a prize acre of corn, and if weather conditions continue favorable for thirty days we believe we will gather enough corn to make us bread for one year more. Now, if we had wheat to make our biscuits, and hogs to make our meat and lard, you can at a glance see that we would be in a better state of preparedness than the man who has not these things. The greatest mystery to us is why the farmers don't grasp this idea and begin at once to remedy the evil, for it is an evil, and unborn generations would rise up and call them blessed.

That is straight home-talk to home-folks—farmer preaching to farmer from a plain "cornbread text"—a sermon of the soil from the experience of the past and with forethought of the future.

> "The cost of a car of cornbread" is a unique way of putting it, and it strikes home.
>
> And then—
>
> "Wheat to make our biscuits, and hogs to make our meat and lard."

On these practical lines this Campbell county farmer is working, and "prouder of that work every day of his life" in that it is contributing not only to his own welfare but to that of the nation.

There are many like him, but "room for more" in every branch of farm industry.

"Save and Serve with Hoover," or what the United States food administration means, by Harris Dickson, in the current Collier's—practical in the extreme, has this poetical beginning:

"There's a long, long trail of ocean, desert and river between Washington City and Khartum. And yet—

"It was one of those amazingly brilliant nights in middle Africa, when the moon seemed bigger than a wagon wheel and stars hung low among the fringes of the palms. Red-shaded candles burned upon the Sirdar's table, and soft-footed Nubians moved across the hush of Oriental rugs."

No Wonder Lightning Ran!

Description of a Michigan storm, from The Manistee News-Advocate:

"The storm was punctuated by the fierce cannonading of thunder and intermittent volleys of shrapnel-like hail, which beat upon the windows and roofs with tremendous intensity. The trap drums of high heaven's orchestra beat an incessant infernal tattoo in diabolical unison with the staccato bark of the lesser thunderous outbreaks of the 42-centimeter reverberations of the impact of the mightier storm clouds. Vivid jagged lightning flashes streaked the murky heavens and did their portion of the damage."

Above us in the street;
Day after day more high,
More beautiful and sweet,
More holy in your sign

And that the right divine
Dwells not with earthly kings,
But with that heaven alone
That gives us strength and might
To hurl 'gainst every throne
Our shards of light."

Wonderful Opportunity for Saving of the Cornstalk

Editor Constitution: An enormous corn crop throughout the state yearly goes to waste when a good shredder in different localities would save thousands upon thousands of tons of good corn stover. The whole cornstalk can be made into good fodder, and thereby dispense with the expensive fodder-pulling and dreaded, time-killing work. A good shredder will also husk the corn as well as shredding the stalk, both at the same time.

I hope you will emphasize the dreadful waste of fodder.

Our government has appealed to every farmer to raise crops of all kinds for man and beast, and by all means not to waste. Now, let both the county and state help to save what is grown.

The counties or state should in many places furnish a shredding outfit, and, with a couple of men in the employ of the county or state, could clean up large quantities of cornstalks during the winter, each farmer paying a reasonable amount for the work.

I have found from many farmers whom I have seen and talked to about it that the main reason for not having a shredding outfit in our locality is the cost. I am trying to work up interest enough around here to get an outfit, but am not certain about its success. This is our first full season of farming here in Fulton county, Georgia, and we expect at least thirty tons of cornstalk and a fine crop of corn; and we shall sadly feel the loss of all that fodder because of no shredder in the community.

We have paid from $30 to $33 per ton for hay since last February for three mules—a lesson deeply engraved upon the pocket-book.

We have growing plenty of cowpeas, soy beans, white black-eyed peas, peanuts, a fine crop of Milo maize, syrup cane, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, and all kinds of garden truck, but we can't bear the idea of losing the corn fodder.

We have no cotton—no place for it nor time this year. O. N. SANDERS,
Chamblee, Ga., Route 2, Box 39.

Bring Present Water System To State of Adequate Repair Comes First in Ewing's Plan

Editor Constitution: The object of the resolution offered by me in regard to the water supply for Atlanta was introduced for the following reasons, to-wit:

First—To make a careful survey and research with regard to our present system, and safeguard against any shortage of water that might prove disastrous to our welfare.

Second—To make a complete survey and research for the purpose of improving and permanently extending the waterworks to meet the growth of a growing city.

Third—To make a complete survey and research for the establishment of a gravity system which would furnish an unlimited supply of pure water from the mountains of north Georgia, which competent engineers believe to be practical and economically sound.

This information every citizen of Atlanta should have. Our commercial and industrial growth depends so largely on our being able to amply supply the city with water, that it would be ill advised not to take the matter in hand in due time and work out for future generations the problem upon the soundest and most economic basis.

This investigation may develop that within our reach we have pure water that can be brought into the city without the enormous expense of pumping, and, in addition, horsepower enough that is not being used now, if developed, to turn every wheel of industry that is not now being electrically turned, and furnish the city with all of its light and power that may be required in the future. J. H. EWING,
Member Board of Aldermen for City of Atlanta.

Tax Equalization Law Now Reaches Personal Property

Editor Constitution: I am interested in the tax equalization law, and am glad to find that Governor Dorsey has approved it. He might have made his message stronger, however, by referring to the vast quantities of personal property it has placed on the tax books.

The returns of Coweta county show that there was an increase of $558,734 this year over last, and the entire increase consisted of personal property and omitted property, including notes, accounts, etc.

Three years ago The Macon Telegraph had several columns complaining that the equalizers had placed three or four millions of dollars in mortgages upon the tax books, and seeking to have these relieved from the tax, but without avail.

In Fulton county a man is kept busy watching the records for mortgages, and a recent estate was forced to pay on several hundred thousand dollars of personalty which had not been disclosed.

The same thing is true in Augusta.

While the equalization law, like anything else human, can be improved, at the same time it has forced on the books property which has been omitted, and has also reached personal property.

"Take Care of Yourself," Good Advice, Says Atchison

Editor Constitution: Will you not permit me to express my appreciation of your recent editorial under the above caption, for its timely advice apropos of the present serious conditions that face our country today?

Taking care of one's self as indicated by the poet is in part sentiment, but the writer in The Army Journal aims to show the value of watching out for the dangers that are likely to befall the volunteer reporting for, and the soldier in the discharge of, duty.

He is counseled to obey the commands and orders of his immediate superiors and to be watchful of health and habits, exhorted to observe carefully the sanitary regulations and rules applying to body and apparel, and especially to camp, car and ship; he is admonished to give the least attention to the hardships and other disagreeable things incidental to army life, but be the American soldier, as all events are but the results of uncontrolled circumstances.

It may be interesting and opportune to quote the closing paragraph of a letter received by the writer from a young Tennessean who has been on the firing line with the English army for the past sixteen months, which shows the actual results of taking care:

"We expect this war to last for some time yet, as we do not know the real strength of the enemy, as reports we often hear cannot be taken as reliable. We are going to find out for ourselves, and when we do, victory will be ours.

"We (our company) have been extremely careful to take advantage of everything that enables us to keep up a cheerful and courageous spirit, such as obeying orders promptly, both on the firing line and in the mess-hall, resting when the opportunity afforded and bathing every time we had the chance. . . . We find this discipline keeps the morale of our company up to the highest standard, and will be one of the main factors in winning the fight. . . ."

While the text and context of the splendid editorial are directed to our youths, who are and will be training to fight in this great war, they could well apply to all alike. "Take Care of Yourself"—words that could be used to advantage in bringing out staid and somber thought and impress all with the necessity of carefully guarding and conserving our personal resources, not only for self-protection, but for the welfare and consideration of our fellow-beings. We not only owe to our immediate community the duty of caring for ourselves materially, morally and physically, but the continuation of the present and future prosperity of our entire country will demand it.

To those of us who will remain at home engaged in the varied commercial activities that are so necessary for the successful termination of this war, these words should have a double meaning. We must take care lest concern and anxiety prevent us from conducting our social and business affairs just the same as we do under normal conditions, and from discharging our obligations with the usual promptness and detail that characterizes the American spirit.

A conference on negro education, under the auspices of the A. M. E. Church of North Carolina, is to be opened at Greensboro tonight with an address by Governor Bickett.

Food production and preservation is to be a leading topic of discussion at the annual convention of the Georgia State Agricultural society, meeting today at Statesboro.

The American Co-operative association, said to be in close affiliation with the Farmers' Nonpartisan league, which has become a political power in North Dakota and neighboring states, is to establish headquarters in St. [illegible] today as a first step in the promotion of a system of co-operative stores in the northwest.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND BILLS PASSED IN BOTH HOUSES

Senate Bills Passed.

To provide for the branding of cotton seed meal according to standards of quality.

New House Bills.

The following bills were introduced in the house on Tuesday:

By Mr. Harris of Walker—To incorporate the city of Lytle.

By Mr. Wright of Jones—To fix the salary of the treasurer of Jones county.

By Mr. Carter of Bacon—To require cotton future contracts in Georgia to conform to the federal law.

By Mr. Cook of Miller—To amend city charter of Colquitt.

Local Bills Passed.

The house on Tuesday passed the following local bills:

To repeal act incorporating town of Oak Park, in Emanuel county.

To provide for collection of special road tax in Bacon county.

To amend act establishing Jasper county board of commissioners.

To amend act establishing Thomas county board of commissioners.

To provide for the appointment of bond commissioners for town of Adel.

To amend city charter of Gibson, in Glascock county.

"A Pity to Waste It," Says Oregonian of Hand Wine

(From The Portland Oregonian.)

The state of Georgia is in a dilemma. A citizen, dying, bequeathed $40,000 worth of wine to the state university, not to be consumed by the students, of course, but to be converted into cash for the promotion of higher education, and Georgia as a prohibition state cannot sell the wine without violating its own laws. The legislature is wrestling with the problem of what to do with it. A pending bill proposes sale outside of the state—a measure that obviates placing temptation within reach of the home folks, but that savors too strongly of the spirit that passes unwelcome visitors along from one community to another. Another bill provides that the liquor be destroyed. The first-named bill has been reported adversely, but it is not easy to let several thousand dollars go, particularly when it would be devoted to the cause of education.

There is no doubt that the alcohol contained in the Georgia wine casks has a certain industrial value. We are at war, too, and alcohol is indispensable to the manufacture of such necessities as smokeless powder. Treated with sulphuric acid, it is transformed into ether, a highly necessary agent for use in hospitals. It would seem to be a pity to let all this good material go to waste. It must be admitted, too, that there are convincing arguments against sale by a prohibition state of liquor for beverage purposes.

It would seem that Georgia ought not to have much difficulty in finding a solution. The federal government already is considering the purchase of whisky stocks for conversion into commercial alcohol, and Georgia's conscience would be quite clear if it adopted a similar policy. There are many uses to which the alcohol could be put besides drinking it. It would be a pity for it to be wasted.

Senatorial Humorist Burlesques the Hand Wine Controversy

Ed. constitution—I gotten a letter from Bill Sturgis one of my ole supporters down at Soap creek in lincoln co, an he says—the revenues cotch a 10 gal kag of the best corn licker that ever run down a mans thoat, in his crib kivered under a lot of juanner sacks.

Bill says, he are kinder pestered 'bout the matter an waunt ter know, if he can't give it ter the legislater, so as they can turn hit over ter the ole sojers home, fer fisick an rumatism fer the old rebs, er give hit ter the wimmim sufferin' as he hearn there is a lot of them is complaing an pesterin the legislater.

He says, if it haint lorful ter give hit to enny of the stait's institutions, it mout be sold at a big price and give ter the pore of georgy, as he hearn it are fetching 'bout 50c a thimble ful at some of the hotels and mesmarants 'round atlanter.

Negro Who Was "Raised Here" Says Whites Are Best Friend

Editor Constitution: I am a negro, about 50 years old, and have been raised here in Georgia; have been thrown with people of other sections and countries right here at home, and find that all are against the negro but the southern white people. They are and always have been his "best friend." For the last fifty years they have helped educate us, and now they have brought us sunshine. They have taught us all we know, both bad and good.

When the big fire came and destroyed our homes in Atlanta, through our white friends the negro was given aid as well as to the white sufferers—they are always ready to aid a deserving negro.

We have learned to love the white friends of the dear old south because we know no one else to go to for aid or advice, which is always freely given.

Thanking you, and all we ask of good old Uncle Sam is to give us a chance to prove our loyalty to the American flag.

The Mayor of Royston Talks Outright of Treason

Editor Constitution: I desire to commend your leading editorial in Sunday's Constitution, "The Menace From Within."

There are in Georgia at least two papers—one a daily and one a weekly—that are carrying much editorial opinion and colored news matter that are treasonable, both in spirit and letter. L. J. MCONNELL.

"Our Fighting Men."

George S. Gibbs.

Lieutenant Colonel George S. Gibbs, U. S. signal corps, holds an important post as one of the directing heads of the signal officers' reserve corps. Colonel Gibbs has had a remarkably successful career in the military service. He is a native of Iowa, born in 1875, and received his education at Iowa university. He began his army career during the Spanish war as a private in an Iowa regiment of volunteers. Later he was made a sergeant in the signal corps, and in that capacity served for several years in the Philippines during the insurrection there. Some years later he was sent to Alaska to supervise the building of a government telegraph line in the far north.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

THE A-B-C IS GOING UP.

Everything is going up these days except tuberculosis, pneumonia, typhoid fever, the diseases of infancy and childhood, all of which are coming down a little year after year.

The A-B-C of middle age is going up. Apoplexy, Bright's disease and Cardiac (heart) disease destroyed proportionately more lives in America last year than in any other year for more than a generation back.

High blood pressure is noted in about a third of all cases of chronic myocarditis (heart muscle degeneration). This slow impairment of the heart gives the patient no rude warning, yet it does throw up signals for years and years in advance of serious disability. The patient, however, too often prefers to ignore signals. Frequently he endeavors to conceal them with some fool medicine highly recommended for just such cases—stomach trouble, run-down condition, need of a tonic, that tired feeling, headaches, insomnia, "kas," and so on. If the patient is so unfortunate as to belong to the other sex and have friends a few years older, she is pretty sure to attribute her health disturbance to the change of life, in which deplorable mistake she always has company and encouragement.

The prevention of cardio-vascular degeneration, arterial hardening, apoplexy, Bright's disease and heart failure is what we are forever preaching in this column: Eat less, play more, unbend, roll your own somersaults, and let the doctor see you stripped at least once a year.

Always have to ring in the doctor, don't we?

Well, there is a reason. A doctor is by instinct a pessimistic, suspicious person. If he finds your blood pressure a peg or two too high he'll worry about it and tell you it is of little significance; yet you see that he is prevaricating, and you worry a little yourself. That makes you more careful; you know that too hearty eating increases blood pressure, so you cut down a little on the butcher.

Or, again, the doctor sees a stray hyaline cast or two under the microscope. Nothing at all, quite insignificant, yet you can plainly see he is worried. Therefore you conclude that even that occasional drink of beer or whisky is as well dispensed with altogether. Alcohol, even in great moderation, never did improve the condition of the kidneys.

The pleasure of the annual medical examination habit is that you can check up your mode of living by the successive reports.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Come, Watson, What Do the Papers Say?

I think you must have clairvoyant powers. You not only hit on the right cause of my "stomach trouble"—gall-stones, as an X-ray examination disclosed—but you were right about my supposedly "trained" nurse, who recommended the strychnin tablets. I discovered that she was never graduated from a hospital training school, after all. To appease a woman's curiosity, will you please explain how you arrived at your conclusion in regard to the nurse? (Mrs. E. W.)

ANSWER—A trained nurse would never advise any one to try strychnin tablets or other drugs for a while. They don't teach nurses to do such things in hospital training schools.

Blue Eyes and Heredity.

Is it possible for a child to be born with the bluest of blue eyes when both parents have very dark brown or black eyes? Isn't there some law of heredity against such occurrence? (F.)

ANSWER—Blue-eyed children may be born of parents of any color. If both parents have blue eyes the children will have blue eyes. Blue eyes represent a failure of the normal deposit of pigment in the eye.

But His Soul Goes Marching On.

Will you tell me how old Elie Metchnikoff now is, and whether he has recently modified his dictum regarding the use of Bulgarian fermented milk as a beverage? (H. A. D.)

ANSWER—Professor Metchnikoff died a year or more ago of heart disease at the age of 69 years. His dictum was to boil the fresh milk several minutes, then sow culture of Bulgarian bacillus in it (after cooling, of course) and let it ferment at about body temperature for several hours, which produces a sour curdled milk of pleasant taste and considerable power in preventing intestinal putrefaction. He advised the drinking of one-half to one pint of this each day.

Woman, Be Not Weak.

If a young woman is perfectly healthy and strong and athletically active, do you consider it wise for her to remain quietly at rest a few days at the menstrual period? (Mrs. E. L.)

ANSWER—No. That should make no difference whatever in her schedule, in my opinion.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. The names of writers are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column; but all inquiries will be answered by mail if a stamped self-addressed envelope is inclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, care of The Constitution.

LITTLE LOCALS ABOUT THINGS OF CITY INTEREST

News was received here yesterday that E. Hilliard Spalding, well-known young Atlanta attorney, has been commissioned a first lieutenant in the ordnance department of the army. Mr. Spalding is now in Washington. He passed the army examination recently in Augusta.

Miss Belle Hayes, an Atlanta girl and graduate of the Atlanta High school, is now at Washington assisting Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, director of food conservation, in household economy work during the present war. Miss Hayes was recently employed in the offices of Fitts & Johnson, in the Hurt building. She is a sister of Mrs. Charles A. Mallinson, of 451 Courtland street. She has two other sisters in government service in Washington.

Announcement has been made that a company of militia composed of young men not subject to draft will be formed in Hapeville, which will offer its service to the state for internal police duty. It is also planned to organize a citizens' home guard in that city. At a recent meeting committees on the formation of both these bodies were appointed. H. L. McElhannon is chairman of the home guard committee and J. A. Well is chairman of the state militia committee.

C. A. Harwell, of 151 West Merritts avenue, was badly injured Tuesday when a trolley car and a coal wagon collided at Luckie and Thurmond streets. Mr. Harwell was the only passenger on the car who was injured. He was removed to the Atlanta hospital, where it was reported that he sustained a dislocated shoulder and numerous minor bruises.

John J. Thomason, president and manager of the Thomason Printing company, was put under bond of $100 yesterday on the charge of sending obscene pictures through the mail. The warrant was sworn out by H. N. Graham, a postal inspector.

The big fire has had its aftermath in various forms. The latest reminder is a suit filed in superior court Tuesday by Mrs. W. S. Sands, in which she claims $2,756.40 damages from the city of Atlanta as compensation for the loss of her furniture, which was destroyed when the house in which she was living was dynamited under the orders of the chief of the fire department.

Suit for $50,000 damages was filed in superior court Tuesday against the Southern railway. The plaintiff, Joseph Paul Bridwell, alleges that he was injured in June, 1917, while engaged as a switchman for the railroad company, as a result of which he is now deformed and helpless. Bridwell states that the engine on which he was riding ran through a derailing switch at Fair street crossing, and turned over, causing his injuries.

Boy Scout Troop 18, of Hapeville, expects to hit the trail for Nacoochee valley some time this month. The troop is in fine shape, under the direction of Scout Master J. A. Wells and Assistant Master Rev. W. H. Clark. The troop is now working on a play which will be given in the Hapeville auditorium at an early date, the funds of which will be used in expenses on the Nacoochee valley hike.

The traffic department of the Seaboard Air Line railroad has announced that F. C. Cheney, well known in Atlanta, has been appointed commercial agent of the road at Greenville, S. C., in charge of solicitation for the Piedmont section. Mr. Cheney has many friends in Atlanta, made while he was connected with the Seaboard in Atlanta, and they will be glad to hear of his recent success.

NEILL PRIMARY BILL CONSIDERED IN SENATE

Senator Tom Brown Offers Substitute Eliminating the County Unit System.

Senator T. A. Brown, of the Forty-first, Tuesday morning introduced a substitute to the Neill primary bill, which would provide for election of state house officers and national representatives by a majority of the popular vote, failures of election to be decided by a second primary.

Attacks Unit System.

In debating his substitute, Senator Brown attacked the county unit system of nomination at length, not failing to give the state democratic executive committee the benefit of his criticism for its action in steadfastly standing by the county unit system.

Replying to Senator Brown, Senator H. W. Hopkins, of the Seventh, stated that, as a democrat, he, for one, felt it his duty to abide by the rules of the party, and that the wisdom of the executive committee had been demonstrated by the approval of the county unit system by the vote of the people of this state. He referred to the fact that this bill passed the last legislature by an overwhelming majority and was vetoed by Governor Harris.

Senator Elders had the floor in favor of the Neill bill at the hour of adjournment.

The senate killed the bill of Senators Heath and Elders which would authorize the trial judge to use his discretion in granting a writ of error in civil cases involving not more than $500 and in misdemeanor cases, and providing for a review of the case before appellate courts by direct application where the trial judge declines a writ of error. The object of the bill, as explained by its champions, is to relieve the appellate courts of much work over trivial points. The senate postponed action indefinitely.

Cotton Seed Meal Bill.

The senate, in addition to several local bills, on Tuesday morning passed the bill providing for the classification according to grade and for the branding of cotton seed meal. The bill, however, was amended so as to grade cotton seed meal as first, second, third and fourth class, and to specify the proportion of nitrogen contained. This amendment, it is understood, will not meet with the approval of the cotton oil mill interests which are said to have had the bill introduced, and a fight is expected in the house if the bill comes up at this session. A notice of Senator Andrews to reconsider the action of the senate in passing the bill was cut off by the passage of a motion by Senator Heath to transmit the bill immediately to the house.

In a brief filibuster led by Senator R. G. Dickerson, of the Fifth, just prior to the hour of automatic adjournment, the senate declined to meet again Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of reading for the first time the house bill for the revision of the general tax act, which would have saved one legislative day in event the house had passed the revision bill at its Tuesday afternoon session.

When the bill approved by Governor Dorsey for the creation of a commission for the sale without the state of the Hand wine for the benefit of the University of Georgia comes up in the senate, which will probably be Wednesday, Senator Hopkins, who was leader of the famous prohibition fight in the house of the last legislature, will take the floor in opposition.

TICK ERADICATION BILL WINS WITH TIE VOTE

The state-wide tick eradication bill introduced recently in the house by Representatives Davis, of Laurens, and Staten, of Lowndes, was yesterday recommended favorably by the agricultural committee of the senate after it had been amended to the extent that tick-infested stock can be moved in districts which are infested.

Appearing for a substitute bill, which proposed to allow the moving of infested cattle to certain specific points provided the cattle was intended for immediate slaughter, were President White, of the White Provision company; President Vareen, of the Moultrie Packing company; B. S. Miller, who represented the Miller Union Stock yards; R. F. Shedden, representing the Shedden stock farms, and Henry Peeples, representing the Moultrie Packing company.

Those appearing for the original bill were Dr. B. Bahnsen, representing the state veterinarians; Alex K. Sisson, president of the State Land Owners' association, and J. B. Strickland, W. S. Booth and P. S. Cummings, stock raisers of Milltown, Manor and Leila, Ga.

The substitute lost, the deciding vote in a tie of 4 and 4 being cast by the chairman.

MOVE MADE TO MEND BRIDGE AT BOLTON

Another step was taken Tuesday afternoon toward the repair of Bolton bridge, over the Chattahoochee river, which has been in a dangerous condition for some time.

At a joint meeting of the Fulton county public works committee and Cobb county authorities, a committee from both bodies was appointed to take the matter up with the street car company, in an effort to get the company to make the necessary repairs.

Bolton bridge connects Fulton and Cobb counties across the Chattahoochee river. It has been badly in need of repair for some time, but action has been deferred owing to the fact that there is some question as to whether Fulton county is obligated to maintain the bridge, and no joint arrangement to do the work has ever been reached by the two counties.

QUICK HANDLING OF FREIGHT URGED TO SOLVE PROBLEM

At a co-operative meeting of the shipping and railroad interests held yesterday morning at the chamber of commerce, it was decided that the solution of the problem which both parties now face is to load cars quickly, load them to full capacity and then unload them quickly. This was decided the most expedient method of meeting the grave situation which the railroads and shippers of the south now must remedy.

C. Murphey Candler, chairman of the Georgia railroad commission, presided over the meeting. A. G. Jackson, general freight agent of the Georgia railroad, discussed increased loading. Others speaking were J. C. Gentry, secretary of the Atlantic Ice and Coal corporation; J. R. Bachman, of the Atlanta Milling Co.; W. S. Richardson, of the N., C. & St. L. railroad; Ralph Rosenbaum, of the Atlanta Woodenware company; E. L. McCord, terminal trainmaster; J. W. White, traffic manager of the International Agricultural corporation; Moultrie Hitt, secretary of the general managers' association; C. S. Walker, of the Southern railroad, and Major J. L. McCollum, of the W. & A.

This Moultrie Reptile Bellows Like a Bull And—"Eats 'Em Alive"

Moultrie, Ga., August 7.—(Special.)—An enormous snake, which bellows like a bull, according to those who have seen and heard it, has terrorized people who live near Warrior creek, about 18 mils from Moultrie. Estimates as to the length of the reptile vary from fifteen to thirty feet.

Recently it wriggled across a corn field, and interested persons measured the width of its trail which was reported as eighteen inchs. Dogs, sheep, small pigs and other domestic animals are said to be missing in the neighborhood over which the bellowing snake holds sway. Investigation, according to reports, revealed evidence which inclines to the theory that these animals were the prey of the reptile. It is a known fact that snakes have no bones in their jaws like a man, to keep it from distending them sufficiently to swallow animals much larger than one might suppose and that some of the missing animals were devoured by the reptile is entirely possible.

A bellowing snake is something new in this section and there are those who say that no such reptile is known to either natural history or mythology.

HOUSE BILLS REPORTED BY SENATE COMMITTEE

House bill No. 101, introduced by Mr. Stewart, of Coffee county, to abolish the city court of Douglas, Ga., was yesterday favorably recommended by the senate committee on county and county affairs.

Representative Stewart appeared in behalf of his bill. Among those who opposed its passage were Judge J. J. Rodgers, of the city court; P. E. Pafford, clerk of the same court, and L. E. Heath, R. J. Cornelius and Lawson Kelley, members of the Douglas bar.

The committee also acted upon the following bills:

House bill 476, introduced by Mr. Middleton, of Early, to change the manner of election of the board of commissioners of Early county. Do pass.

House bill 492, by Mr. Shannon, of Twiggs, to abolish the board of commissioners of roads and revenues of Twiggs county. Do pass.

House bill 440, by Messrs. Jones and Arnold, of Coweta, to amend an act to create a board of commissioners of roads and revenues of Coweta county. Do pass.

House bill 513, by Mr. Ballard, of Newton, to provide for the collection of commutation taxes by militia districts in Newton county. Do pass.

17TH INFANTRY CAPTAIN WRITES ARMY MANUAL

War poets and song perpetrators are plentiful. Likewise young authors are grinding out war stories without end. All of which is easy enough and creates a negligible impression upon the public mind.

But the compilation of a "vade mecum" which contains about all there is to know concerning the military from the simple rules for enlistment on down to the most intricate inside army regulations, is a man's-size job, and you will have to "hand it to" Captain Floyd D. Carlock, of the 17th infantry, who has done this very thing.

Captain Carlock's book, "Company Vade Mecum," is an invaluable aid to every man who is either already in the service or who is quietly thinking it over. It contains models of pay roll, muster roll, official letter, company return, etc., with full instructions and model remarks for their preparation; also other data necessary for a company to have, but which is not included in the manuals taken by a company in the field. It is said to be an indispensable little volume for company officers and non-coms. It is on sale at book stores and post exchanges in Atlanta at 75 cents.

CHILD FINDS NUDE BODY OF INFANT IN SEWER

The nude body of a baby girl was discovered early yesterday afternoon lying in the sewer at the corner of Pryor and Formwalt streets by Mabel Tuck, a little girl, who, with other children, was playing in the street, when she peered through an opening into the sewer.

When she told of her discovery residents nearby notified police headquarters. Call officers Holley and Anderson responded. They immediately notified Coronor Paul Donehoo, who called an inquest at the spot where the body was found. The jury rendered a verdict of death from an unknown cause.

No marks of violence were found on the body, but it was so badly discolored as to make it impossible to tell whether it was that of a white child or not.

CHAMBER MAY SECURE GRAIN ELEVATOR HERE

Efforts are being made by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce to establish a large grain elevator in Atlanta, of the type that is now being used so extensively in the west. If the effort meets with success, Atlanta will become a most important grain center.

Georgia is fast becoming an important factor in the production of grain, and such an elevator will no doubt stimulate the grain industry in this state.

President Ivan E. Allen appointed W. J. Lowenstein chairman of a committee to gather data and interest capital in the concern. Mr. Lowenstein stated that the first step would be to gather concrete information proving a grain elevator would be of benefit to Atlanta and Georgia.

WILL PUSH VOCATIONAL EDUCATION MEASURE

An effort is going to be made, despite the congested condition of the house calendar and the necessity for speedy work on the tax act and the general appropriations bill, to save the bill which would appropriate some $10,000, through which the state of Georgia would get about $41,000 from the federal government under the Smith-Hughes act, for federal aid in vocational education by states.

Georgia already appropriates approximately $31,000 for vocational education, and the additional appropriation of $10,000 would place the state in position to receive a supplemental $41,000 from the federal government January 1, 1918. The amount would be even larger January 1, 1919.

50 GEORGIA STUDENTS TO ENLIST IN A BODY

Special Officer Detailed to Accept the Men for Quartermaster's Corps.

Acting under special permission from Major General Leonard Wood, commander of the department of the southeast, a special recruiting officer was detailed yesterday from the Atlanta army recruiting station to Athens to enlist fifty students of the University of Georgia who desire to enlist in a body in the quartermaster's corps of the army.

Aside from the fact that this is the largest body of men to enlist in a Georgia city of Athens' size since the beginning of the war, the action of the university boys is more noteworthy in that only a very few of them were subject to draft and not one was included in the first call.

The fifty young men have been undergoing an intensive training course in the science of army supply and food transportation under the personal supervision of Professor S. V. Sanford, of the university faculty. They will stand a rigid examination for places in the quartermaster's department.

Atlanta recruiting again took a decided change yesterday after having undergone a three days' slump, and in spite of the rainy weather all stations enlisted a goodly number of "rookies."

The army was again in the lead with approximately 50 men, and the navy had a large number of applicants. Officials of the marine corps also state that Tuesday was a highly satisfactory day.

The navy has enlisted a sufficient number of musicians for ships' bands, but that branch of the service is in need of a large number of cooks, bakers and mess attendants. The last named will be chosen entirely from negro applicants.

Tuesday's enlistments are as follows:

The Army—James B. Benson, Winder; Vallie F. Hix, Chattahoochee; Edward P. Finger, Gainesville; Sam J. Palmer, Gainesville; Claude Brooks, Athens; William B. Sherman, Tennille; William R. Knight, Daytona, Fla.; Reuben N. Kirley, Douglasville; Emmett F. Smith, Sparks; James F. Johnson, Dalton; Charles O. Spann, Dalton; William I. Wilson, Jr., Augusta; Alfred H. Aenchbacher, Dublin; Robert B. Burnsed, Madison; Charles Derby, Atlanta; Joe Jortrie; Jim L. Strickland, Atlanta; Glenn J. Hayslip, Poulan; James A. Hurley, La Grange; Charlie S. Allen, Valdosta; Herbert C. Norris, Atlanta; Carroll L. Hutchinson, Adel; Archie Kindal, Atlanta; Ernest M. Dorsey, Calhoun; Jacob F. Stroz, Atlanta; Wilmot H. Pendergrass, Atlanta; John T. Harmon, Atlanta.

Marines—Robert Ross and Hoyt T. Hudson.

House Committee To Consider Carter Cotton Future Bill

The bill of Representative Carter, of Bacon, designed to prevent speculation in cotton futures and to compel the fixing of the price for Georgia cotton in Georgia instead of New York, will come up for consideration before general agricultural committee No. 2, of the house, this afternoon.

The advocates of this bill claim that it is one of the most important bills now pending in the assembly. It is patterned after the Smith-Lever act of congress, and is similar to bills which have already been passed in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. It would compel sales of cotton futures to be a genuine bona fide contract, with the name of the buyer and seller shown on the contract. The necessity for actual transfer of the commodity, it is claimed, will compel New York to fix points of delivery in the south instead of designating New York as a fictitous delivery point, which change would result in a saving to the southern seller of 60 points in the price he would get for his cotton, this difference representing the freight to New York.

SMITH TO INTRODUCE ANTI-NARCOTIC BILL

An anti-narcotic bill, unofficially drafted by District Attorney Hooper Alexander, will be introduced in the house Wednesday by Representative John Y. Smith, of Fulton.

The object of this bill is to support the Harrison anti-narcotic act of congress by a state enactment and for the relief of drug addicts in this state.

The bill would give superior court judges authority to appoint physicians who shall treat drug addicts in a scientific manner and endeavor to bring about their cure.

Owing to the late date at which this bill will be introduced, it will not come up for action before the next session.

SHOWERS TO CONTINUE WITH RISING MERCURY

Although rain is expected to continue, there will be a rise in temperature, the weather man says, when thundershowers again strike the city today in fulfillment of last night's weather forecast.

Until yesterday almost chilly weather obtained for almost a week. The maximum temperature during that time in Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina was from 68 to 84 degrees, while the lowest was often 60 degrees.

BEDELL SUIT COMPANY MAY PUT BRANCH HERE

Reported New York Concern Figuring on Lease of McClure Store.

Following the announcement made in Tuesday's Constitution that the McClure Ten-Cent company had secured a lease on the building now occupied by the J. M. High company on the southwest corner of Whitehall and Hunter streets, it was reported yesterday that negotiations are pending regarding the disposal of the building now occupied by the McClure company at the northwest corner of Whitehall and Hunter streets.

It was also reported that the Bedell Suit company, a large suit concern of New York, has been in communication with the owners of the building, but that no definite understanding has been arrived at as yet.

In the event that arrangements are consummated with this company, Atlanta will have a branch of one of the largest suit concerns in the country.

According to a statement made by the owners of the J. M. High company building last night no arrangements have yet been made for renting the two top floors of that building, which are not included in the lease secured by the McClure company.

The deal for the lease of the High building property to the McClure concern is regarded by real estate men as one of the biggest lease transactions consummated in recent years.

TAX BILL PASSES WITH SECTION 14 EXCISED

Hall closed the debate on the tax act by a strong speech against it.

Heaviest Money Bill Ever.

The general appropriations bill which is now before the house will total in round figures $6,288,963.42, to which is to be added $50,000 of special appropriations already recommended and $30,000 that will be included in the general bill for the maintenance of the military department, upon request of the governor, making a grand total of $6,368,963, which is compared with the general bill for 1917 of $5,355,639.14, which is an increase this year over last of $913,324. On these figures, and the common custom with each second session of a legislature, which has invariably made additional appropriations after the enactment of the biennial general bill, this legislature will spend $1,000,000 more than its predecessor, or any recent past legislature.

ZIMMER IN CHARGE OF SECURING COOKS FOR CANTONMENT

W. V. Zimmer has been put in charge of the efforts being made by leading Atlanta hotel men to provide chefs and assistant cooks for the new national army.

Offices have been established in the Majestic hotel, and efforts are to be put forth at once to obtain 240 cooks to serve for as many weeks as will require men from the ranks to be taught the art of cooking.

The task of providing cooks for the Atlanta cantonment is up to J. Lee Barnes, manager of the Majestic hotel. Applicants for places as chefs may communicate with Mr. Barnes, William C. Royer, Piedmont hotel, Atlanta; George R. Benton, Hotel Savannah, Savannah; L. D. Fairchild, Exchange hotel, Montgomery; H. N. Burt, Florence hotel, Birmingham, or Mr. Zimmer, Majestic hotel, Atlanta.

Transportation will be paid to the scene of duty of all men who are employed. Class A cooks will be paid $125 a month, with board and lodging; class B men, $90 a month, also with free board and lodging.

Brown Favors the Plan For Experiment Station In Coastal Plain Section

Waycross, Ga., August 7.—(Special.) Strong approval of the proposal to establish an experiment station in the coastal plains section of Georgia has been obtained by the chamber of commerce from J. J. Brown, commissioner of agriculture. In a letter received by the chamber yesterday the commissioner stated that it was his opinion the coastal plain section of Georgia, fully developed, would produce enough to feed and clothe four states like Georgia and then have a surplus.

Mr. Brown also took occasion to refer to the great opportunity this section had in the cattle industry and said he believed with the cattle tick eradicated this section would become one of the largest live stock parts of the country. He expressed the opinion that within three years at the latest, if a law for state-wide tick eradication is secured from the present session of the legislature, Georgia will be tick free.

The local organization is greatly encouraged over Mr. Brown's hearty indorsement of the experiment station plan and today redoubled its energies on the matter. Although late in the session to accomplish much this year, it is hoped from the favorable consideration given to date there will be no trouble in another year in having the state authorize a station for the coastal plans section.

SWEET POTATOES ARE ADDED TO ARMY DIET

Bureau of Markets Wins Fight to Have Them on Bill of Fare.

Georgia's state bureau of markets is responsible for the decision which has just been reached in Washington at the instance of Congressmen Howard, Walker, Green, Vinson and others, to include the sweet potato in the army diet. Information that the quartermaster's department had finally consented to put the sweet potato on the army bill of fare came in dispatches from Washington Tuesday.

It was the Georgia market bureau of the state department of agriculture which first discovered that the sweet potato had been ignored. It immediately began not only to ask the question why, but to insist that this unjust decision be reversed.

When the quartermaster's department said that it would not consider it Director L. B. Jackson, of the market bureau, having in mind the Georgia crop of some 10,500,000 bushels now coming on, at once took the matter up with Georgia's senators and representatives in congress. Nor did he stop there. Commissioner J. J. Brown and Director Jackson immediatey took steps to secure the co-operation of other sweet potato growing states, and their agricultural departments also got busy with their representatives in congress with the result that the quartermaster's department has been besieged with representatives from the sweet potato states.

The department was soon made to see its error in omitting from the army diet one of the best, most substantial and most satisfying of foods. The result is the order, announcement of which has just come from Washington that the sweet potato has been reinstated, a fact which both the Georgia farmer and the Georgia soldier will heartily welcome.

Capt. Basil Hood Dead.

London, August 7.—Captain Basil Hood, dramatic author, was found dead in London today. Captain Hood, who was 53 years old, served 15 years in the British army, for ten years as a subaltern after studying in the Royal Military college, being promoted to a captaincy in 1893 and retiring in 1898. Captain Hood wrote copiously for the stage, mostly in the lighter vein.

"That Something"

It is the quality that makes a business transaction just a bit more satisfactory and agreeable than it might have been.

It is the added flavor of willingness and co-operation giving zest to a trade.

It is the touch of individuality adorning the bare details of business.

It is the something we try to incorporate in all our dealings with our public.

In other words, it is just co-operation with our customers--the keynote of our service.

THE KATZIES — They Were Good Until the Goat Butted In

WHIFFS

Clean Sweep.

THE CRACKERS made a clean sweep of the series with the Nashville Vols, and as the result the standing for the season in Nashville gives the Crackers seven victories to four for the Vols and one tie game.

The Records.

IN THE SERIES just closed the Crackers tallied 22 runs to 7 for the Vols, made 52 hits to 24 for the Vols and 7 errors to 8 for the Vols. The average per game but show the Crackers 5 runs to 2 for the Vols, 13 hits to 6 for the Vols and 1 error to 2 for the Vols. In brief, in every department of play the coming champions outplayed the present champions decisively.

Fine Work.

THE TWIRLERS did fine work during the series. Day, after a bad start, held the Vols to three hits for the last three innings of the first game. Hess, in the thirteen-inning tie, was nicked for three hits by his opponent in the box, but held the rest of the Nashville team to six hits for thirteen innings, or less than one for every other inning. On Tuesday Brennan held the Vols to five hits, his second victory and second five-hit game since returning to the Crackers, while Bressler allowed but two hits.

Keep It Up.

THE ATTACK pitching and fielding all co-operated in the Nashville series and if the same policy is adopted in the crucial series, starting in Birmingham today, then Atlanta fans need have no worry as to the ultimate outcome of the contest. Thrasher and Picinich has been hammering the ball to all corners of the lot of late and their bats are being felt in the ultimate results obtained.

Wordy War.

"SCRAPPY" MOORE'S appearance on the coaching lines in Cracker livery Sunday," says The Nashville Tennessean, "was a signal for a wordy war between the former Commodore and fans which never halted. The bugs wasted no time in reminding the late Vanderbilter of his brief stay with the Browns and Omaha. Scrappy kept up a noisy bark at the stands and bleachers, despite the thrusts from the fans."

Many Offers.

BENNY LEONARD, the new lightweight champion, is in receipt of many offers for bouts, the latest being one for $20,000 by Jack Curley, win, lose or draw, to box 20 rounds with Charley White to a decision. This bout should draw a splendid house, and is the logical championship bout. Leonard will get four round-trip tickets, in addition to the purse mentioned. Gee, ain't it great to be a champion!

Still Changing.

KID ELBEFELD is still changing his Lookouts. Al Platte and Floyd Kroh are the latest to receive their walking papers, Knowlson getting his the day before. This same Platte was the man who was going to "make my team," as Kid Elberfeld put it when the Crackers were in Chattanooga last. Evidently he made it, but not like the Kid intended.

Brennan and Bressler Hold Vols While Mates Hammer Out Two Wins

By Blinkey Horn.

Nashville, Tenn., August 7.—(Special.)—The Crackers, aided by Frank Thrasher's big bat and a continuation of the sensational fielding which marked the 13-inning draw on Monday, tightened their grip on first place this afternoon when they grabbed both ends of a double-header from the vanishing Vols.

The score of the first game, in which astounding fielding on more than one occasion saved Ad Brennan, was 5 to 1, while the last affair was a procession of Crackers' runners across the plate, the figures being 8 to 0.

Rube Bressler permitted the Vols but two hits, both of which came in separate innings, while the Crackers hammered Art Decatur for 15 safe drives.

Thrasher's Great Work.

The hot attack of Frank Thrasher against three Vol pitchers but once before has been excelled in the section. Back in the musty past Clayton Perry, while third basing for Bill Schwartz, cracked out eleven consecutive hits.

Perry's long run, however, extended more than two games, while the former Mackman today clubbed a safety on every appearance at the platter.

He collected four safeties in the opener off Jack Scott, while in the final affair the ex-Athletic maced Art Decatur for a two-sacker and two singles and added a fourth sizzler off Jack Meador, who replaced Decatur in the sixth.

Including a two-bagger which Thrasher belted forth in the thirteenth inning of Monday's deadlock, the big right fielder brewed nine safeties without a miss, but two short of the Southern league record.

Brilliant Picket Work.

Brilliant work by Moran, Mayer and Thrasher was responsible for the victory which Brennan turned in, for the late Gull was rapped much harder than the box score indicates. In the fourth inning of the first game Moran plucked Marshall's long drive off the bull with his gloved hand, while two Vols were waiting to score, and a moment later Thrasher, with his back to the infield, stabbed with his gloved hand Scott's low liner, cutting off two more runs.

Practically every catch that Mayer made was of the sensational variety, four Vols being robbed of extra base drives by his wonderful work. In fact, the playing of the Cracker outfield excelled any performance on the local lot this season. To the brilliant trio can be traced the twin-win, since Brennan was constantly menaced with Vol runners.

How They Scored.

The Crackers got away to a two-run lead in the second round of the opener, on Moran's single, a wild pitch, Thrasher's single, Munch's bounder over Ellam's head and a sacrifice fly from Reilly's bat.

They added two more in the following round on Kores' two-base wild heave of Moran's tap, Thrasher's second single, a sacrifice, a walk to Reilly and Perkins' double. Frank was nipped off third by Street or the run harvest would have been greater.

In the fifth Mayer combed a double to left as a starter and continued home when Knisely's throw went through the infield.

Knisely's double and O'Brien's single accounted for the Vols' lonesome run.

In the last affair, a seven-inning engagement, the Crackers fell upon Decatur in the second stanza and won the decision. Moran, as in the first game, led off with a single; Thrasher doubled to the dump; Marshall's relayed throw had Roy at the plate, but Street dropped the ball. Frank tallied on Reilly's sacrifice fly after Munch sacrificed.

Four singles by Mayer, O'Mara and Thrasher and Munch gave the Crackers three counters in the third.

Decatur was driven to cover in the sixth on singles by Picinich, Mayer, McDonald and O'Mara.

The Vols never got a runner to second base in the last game.

Memphis, Tenn., August 7.—After losing the first game of today's double-header, a hard fought pitchers' battle, to Mobile, 4 to 1, Memphis made honors for the day even by defeating the visitors, 7 to 6, in the second game, a poorly played ten-inning contest. Vance, pitching for Memphis in the first game, struck out nine batsmen, but allowed the visitors to bunch hits while Pope was effective throughout. Errors helped both teams to pile up runs in the second contest. A single by Barger brought in the deciding run.

Lookouts 8, Barons 2.

Chattanooga, August 7.—The Lookouts broke a losing streak today by hammering two Birmingham pitchers hard, winning the final game of the series, 8 to 2. Sylvester and Hyatt each hit safely three times out of four times at bat, Hyatt getting a single, a double and a triple. The Barons could not solve Marshall except in the seventh inning, when, after Sheehan had singled and Southworth had doubled, Johnston's hit scored both.

FRANK THRASHER MAKES A RECORD

Eight Hits in Eight Times Up Tuesday Best Mark in Baseball as Far as Records Show.

By Dick Jemison.

Frank Thrasher, the Watkinsville walloper, set a baseball record at Nashville Tuesday when he strode to the plate eight times and a like number of times found a safe place for the pellet, driven by that big war club of his.

There have been incidents in baseball where players have made more than eight consecutive hits, picking up from the day before, but Thrasher's performance Tuesday is a baseball record for consecutive hits in one day.

The big right fielder is now approaching the record of consecutive hits for the Southern league. This record is eleven by Clayton Perry, then a member of the Mobile Gulls. Perry got eleven straight hits while a member of that team.

Thrasher doubled in the thirteenth inning of Monday's tie game, and as he clouted safely in eight straight times up Tuesday, he has run his total up to nine. Two hits the first two times up at Birmingham today will tie the record for the league.

Thrasher boosted his batting average twenty-two points as the result of Tuesday's good work, and is now hitting .287, jumping from .265 in the averages. This is more like the Thrasher average and the Walloper will shortly be in the class where he belongs, the select .300 circle.

Thrasher's great work is the source of much pleasure among Atlanta fans, with whom the big right fielder is very popular.

ELLIS VS. SOUTH AT THE COLUMBIA FRIDAY NIGHT

Matchmaker Mike Saul has closed one of the best bouts held at the Columbia theater this season, when he matched Charley South to meet "Batling" Ellis over the ten-round route at the local playhouse next Friday night.

This will be the third meeting between these boys, and the coming affair is expected to be even better than their past battles.

Both boys got down to hard training yesterday, so that they will be at their best by Friday night. The winner will be in line for some good bouts in the future.

Two four-round bouts will fill out the card, making eighteen rounds of boxing in all. The weekly contests are put on in addition to the theatrical shows.

Georgia State Tennis Tourney Gets Under Way

The Georgia State Tennis tournament was started in earnest Tuesday morning. The courts, with the exception of being a little slow, were in fine condition, considering the heavy rain.

One of the hardest matches of the day was the one between C. Angier, Jr., and F. C. Beach. The first set went to Beach by a score of 6-2. The second set was a beautiful exhibition of tennis, Angier winning finally with a score of 8-6, practically every game being a deuce game. The third set, when rain interfered, was 4-2, Angier leading. Angier's wonderful net playing and Beach's lobbing were a feature of the match.

Norville Wilson, 13-year-old boy, made several of the old heads sit up and take notice. His match with Dr. Lipscomb, who plays a pretty game, promises to be one of the features of this afternoon's play.

Only one ladies' match was played Tuesday. Many promising matches will be played today.

TUESDAY'S RESULTS.

Ladies' Singles.

Miss Estille Withers defeated Miss Gertrude Orr, 6-4, 6-3. Miss Withers' serving was the main feature of this match.

Men's Singles.

Garrett Porter defeated Bob Joines, 6-0, 6-1.

Rawson Stewart defeated Ed Schane, 6-1, 6-1.

Kendrick Springer defeated L. B. Davidson, by default.

Ralph Williams, T. H. Raegan, 4-6, 6-2, All in.

E. V. Carter defeated D. H. Smith, 6-3, 6-3.

Raymond Lindorne defeated J. W. Cooper, Jr., by default.

W. G. Shearer defeated J. J. Joines, Jr., 6-3, 6-1.

F. M. Roebuck defeated R. B. West, 6-0, 610.

O. S. Barnett defeated Guy Odell, 6-4, 6-2.

J. G. Wilbourne vs. Lamar Williamscn, match not finished.

Visiting Players Here.

Many visiting players will get in the running today. Mrs. J. M. Milam, Greenville, S. C., winner of Georgia state last year, will be in town. Miss E. Morrison and Mrs. Annis, from Chattanooga, are also expected today. Macon stars will arrive early Thursday morning.

Tennis enthusiasts are missing a treat if they don't go out and see some of these fine matches.

LOCALS CHANGE BATTLE SCENE

By Dick Jemison.

The Crackers move over to Birmingham today for their second visit of the season to Slagville this season, the only city in the league that they have not paid two visits to.

The Crackers visited Birmingham in May and, on that occasion, they won two of the three games played. The series resulted as follows:

May 17.

Atlanta	3	11	1
Birmingham	7	9	0

Day, Sheehan and Picinich; Ponder and Smith.

May 18.

Atlanta	7	9	1
Birmingham	2	10	6

Bressler and Perkins; Black and Smith.

May 19.

Atlanta	9	10	0
Birmingham	4	13	6

Fullenweider, Brennan and Perkins; Hill, Perryman, Johnson and Smith.

Day lost the first game, while Bressler and Brennan won the last two. The last game was won in the eighth inning, when shut out, 4 to 0, until that period, the Crackers drove Hill from the mound and pounded Perryman off, also, scoring eight runs.

Changes in Team.

When the Crackers played in Birmingham on that occasion, Cable was hurt in the first game and Picinich went to second base, where he played great ball. The Crackers' batting order the last two games of the series was, Picinich 2b., Reilly ss., Moran lf., McDonald rf., Bridwell 3b., Mayer cf., Munch 1b. Note the changes that have taken place since then.

The Crackers play four games with the Barons on this occasion, and this series will be one of the most important of the season. The Barons seem to have recovered their stride, and are making a bid to overhaul the Pelicans and Crackers.

Manager Frank still contends that the Barons are the team that the Crackers will have to beat for the pennant, and he is looking forward to this series with no easiness.

The Crackers pay another four-game visit to Birmingham this month, opening a series there August 27. We will accompany them on this trip.

The Barons have already played nine games in Atlanta, the Crackers winning five of them and the Barons four. The Barons come here to close the season with the Crackers with games September 14 and 15. The standing on the season is, Atlanta 7, Birmingham 5.

The following the probable line-up for the opening game today:

Atlanta.	Birmingham.
Mayer, cf	Webb, 2b.
C. McDonald, 3b	E. McDonald, 3b.
O'Mara, ss	Sheehan, cf.
Moran, lf	Coombs, lf.
Thrasher, rf	Southworth, rf.
Munch, 1b	Johnston, 1b.
Reilly, 2b	Caton, ss.
Picinich, c	Smith, c.
Day, p	Comstock, p.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Giants 4, Reds 2.

Cincinnati, August 7.—By bunching hits with Cincinnati's errors, New York won today's game, 4 to 2, making it three out of four for the series.

Score by innings:		R.	H.	E.
New York	000 010 120	4	9	0
Cincinnati	010 000 010	2	3	9

Batteries—Demaree, Benton and Rariden; Schneider, Ring and Wingo.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Senators 3, Browns 2.

Washington, August 7.—Washington made it three out of four by defeating St. Louis today, 3 to 2. Groom and Koob held the locals to four hits, but Milan's triple with the bases full in the third won the game.

Score by innings:		R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	000 110 000	2	7	0
Washington	003 000 00x	3	4	0

Batteries—Groom, Koob and Severeid; Shaw, Dumont and Ainsmith.

Yanks 7, Tigers 1.

New York, August 7.—New York won an even break in its series with Detroit, by winning the fourth game here today, 7 to 1. The Yankees made one run for each hit. Until the eighth inning Pipp had made the only hits off Cunningham, but scored each time. Four singles and a home run by Baker produced five more runs in the eighth. Shawkey pitched brilliantly for New York, permiting only five singles.

Score by innings:		R.	H.	E.
Detroit	000 010 000	1	5	1
New York	000 010 15x	7	7	0

Batteries—Cunningham and Yelle; Shawkey and Walters.

Athletics 8, White Sox 1.

Philadelphia, August 7.—Philadelphia hit the ball safe in every inning today and defeated Chicago, 8 to 1. Runs were hard to get for the home team until two men were out in the seventh inning. Then no runs would have resulted but for Schalk dropping a throw to retire Strunk at the plate. Philadelphia then knocked Faber off the rubber and kept up the bombardment on Danforth, six runs being made in this session on seven successive hits, two bases on balls and an error. Witt led with four singles in five times at bat.

Score by innings:		R.	H.	E.
Chicago	100 000 000	1	4	1
Philadelphia	010 001 60x	8	19	0

Batteries—Faber, Danforth, Williams and Schalk; Schauer and Mayer.

Red Sox 8, Indians 6.

Boston, August 7.—Boston split even with Cleveland in the series which closed today, by winning the final game, 8 to 6. Hard hitting figured, Speaker and Harris each making three hits. Boehling was driven from the box in the seventh when four runs were scored after two were out. Shore was hit freely in the seven innings he pitched.

Score by innings:		R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	000 104 001	6	11	3
Boston	010 001 42x	8	10	1

Batteries—Boehling, Coumbe and Billings, O'Neill; Shore, Jones and Agnew.

May	25.38	25.80	25.50	25.27	25.34

Closed steady at an advance of 2 to 6 points.

New York, August 7.—There was a further sharp advance at the opening of the cotton market today and August contracts sold at 27.70, making a new high record for the season.

Offerings increased around 26.50 for October and that delivery broke to 25.95 in the late trading, closing at 25.97 with the general list closing steady, net 42 points higher to 9 points lower. August showed the big advance, while other months were 9 points lower to 5 points higher, as compared with last night's final figures.

Bullish overnight spot advices and continued dry weather in the southwest seems chiefly responsible for the early buying. The market opened firm at an advance of 9 to 26 points on covering and buying of the same character as that noted on the advance of yesterday. Contracts were very scarce until the market showed net advances of about 44 to 53 points with December selling at 26.21 and January at 26.20 during the middle of the day. This made an advance of about 210 to 218 points from the low level touched on the reaction of last Thursday and a recovery of 270 to 290 points from the low point reached on the decline which preceded the publication of the government crop reports at the beginning of the month.

The more urgent demand in shorts then appeared to have been satisfied, and the market broke pretty sharply during the afternoon under realizing and selling for a reaction. December declined to 25.64 and January to 25.62, closing a few points up from the lowest on covering. Texas advices say new cotton is coming in very freely from the southern part of the state.

Port receipts today 10,766 bales; United States port stocks 566,109. Exports 700, exports so far this season 45,694.

Spot cotton quiet; middling 28.00.

Total sales 461,300.

NEW ORLEANS FAILED TO HOLD OPENING RISE

New Orleans, August 7.—Although the local cotton market displayed strength in the early trading and a rise of half a cent a pound, realizing by owners of long contracts became a weight on values before the session was very old and a net decline was finally brought about. In the afternoon the pressure was most severe, but the close was steady at a net rise of 2 to 6 points. The steadiness of spots at all times worked for underlying strength. Local spots were quoted 62 points up to 26.25 for middling, the highest spot quotation in this market in half a century.

The opening was at the advance, and in the early trading prices were lifted 49 to 53 points above the level of yesterday's close on a continuation of Monday's buying wave. Messages from Texas told of spots selling as high as 27¼ cents a pound, and it was known that local spot prices were materially higher. The market acted somewhat top-heavy after the recent strong advances and offerings of long cotton finally became more than the ring could handle. At the lowest of the day active months were 1 to 6 points under the final quotations of yesterday.

A feature of the day was the arrival here of the first two bales of the new Louisiana crop and the first bale of the Mississippi crop. They were auctioned off at noon, bringing from 30 to 30¼ cents a pound.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, August 7.—(Special.)—There was a good demand for contracts the first hour, mainly by recent disappointed sellers, but the rest of the day the market was nervous and irregular. There was considerable liquidation on the advance and the sales were heavier than for some time. Weather and crop advices as a whole were regarded as very favorable, nevertheless there were some complaints from the southwestern part of Texas. Ginning in that state is increasing rapidly and the movement will soon be heavy. From nearly all points it is reported farmers are selling as fast as their cotton is ginned. Some points reported sales on the basis of New York October and better. The technical position is undoubtedly weakened and unless unfavorable developments occur a further advance is not likely at present.

J. W. JAY & CO.

New York, August 7.—(Special.)—Although prices advanced early in the day on what appeared to be large local outside buying, the demand from the start was supplied by the bulls. In the afternoon the good crop accounts coming to hand from all sections except the area in Texas suffering from drouth, made themselves felt in the selling which came from the south and the entire advance was lost on these realizing sales.

The spot situation is that wherever freight room can be obtained high prices are willingly paid for small quantities for immediate shipment.

Until the ports acquire a stock of cotton to supply this demand when it appears the market will remain in a very nervous condition.

We expect the export houses will slowly accumulate a stock at the ports to meet these sudden demands. The difficulty of so doing is well known. The knowledge of it enables large operators to cause quick advances regardless of good crop advices.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

Government Crop Report Today.

The government's August crop report will be issued today, August 8, at 2:15 p. m., eastern time.

This report covers the cereals, potatoes, tobacco, hay, sugar, apples and peaches.

Interest centers in corn and wheat.

A generally accepted forecast at Chicago last night was that the government report would indicate a crop of about 3,200,000,000 bushels of corn, against 2,583,000,000 bushels harvested last year.

BEAR PRESSURE FAILS ON CORN

Slight Depressions Under Hammering Regained and the Close Steady at Slight Advance—Wheat Gains Slightly--Oats Unchanged.

Chicago, August 7.—Although generous rain that promised to enlarge the yield of corn had a bearish influence for a while today on prices of that cereal, the fact that rural offerings were not large and that no big movement soon was expected, led afterward to a reaction. The market closed steady, ⅛c to ⅜c net higher, with December $1.16⅞ and May $1.13¾ to $1.13⅞. Wheat gained ¾ and closed steady at $2.25¾.

Oats finished unchanged to ⅛c lower and provisions down 7 to 30c.

At first the corn market showed a decided downward tendency owing to the emphasis which drenching rains throughout the west had given to the optimistic outlook for this season's crop. Gossip was current that as a result of the favorable conditions which have prevailed of late, the 1917 yield would be fully 100,000,000 bushels in excess of any previous record. The fact soon became evident, however, that no big movement from rural holders could be looked for until the safety of the new crop had been more thoroughly assured. A material bulge in prices followed, but on the upturn an increase of selling was noticeable.

Complaints of dry weather damage in Canada tended to lift wheat values. Previously the market had been on the down-grade owing to increased arrivals of new wheat from the domestic winter crop region.

Prospects of a bumper crop of oats made the market relatively easy. There were forecasts that the government report tomorrow would show a likelihood of 500,000,000 bushels more being harvested than was the case last year.

Higher quotations on hogs put temporary strength into provisions. Holders were quick, though, to seize the chance to realize, and before the day was over the gains had all much more than been wiped out.

INDUSTRIALS SAG, TOBACCOS SOAR

Intimations of New Financing Cause Recessions in Many of the War Descriptions, Bethlehem Old Falling 4 1-2 Points.

New York, August 7.—Intimations that several of the leading industrial companies may find it necessary to engage in new financing, announcement of the reduction of the Studebaker quarterly dividend from 2½ to 1 per cent and the reported insistence of the administration that war prices to the allies must undergo radical downward revision were responsible for the occasional unsettlement manifested by today's stock market.

Bethlehem Steel, old stock, broke 4½ points and the new 2⅝, Studebaker made an extreme reaction of 4 points and other war descriptions fell 1 to 2 points.

Trading languished after the first hour, but pools were again active in tobaccos and sugars. New high records were made by American Sumatra Tobacco at 55½, Tobacco Products at 70¼ and United Cigar Stores at 122⅝.

United States Steel started off impressively, but soon reacted 1½ points to 126⅜, closing at 126⅞, a net loss of ⅞ of a point. Other industrials and equipments pursued much the same course, a few ending at moderate gains.

Standard stocks were relegated to minor positions until the final hour when Investment Rails, Marines and American International Corporation developed sudden activity and strength, gaining 1 to 2 points.

Utilities such as Brooklyn Transit, Consolidated Gas and American Telephone averaged one point gained, offset, however, by 1 to 3 point recessions in Ohio Gas, Western Union and Public Service of New Jersey. Total sales amounted to 440,000 shares.

Slight recessions ruled in high grade domestic and international bonds. The Liberty issue ranged from 99 and 62-100ths to the new minimum of 99 and 52-100ths. Totals sales, par value, aggregated $2,740,000.

United States bonds, old issues, were unchanged on call.

Returns to the Interstate Commerce Commission Show Record Prosperity for American Railroads

On Basis of Figures Made Public by the Government Yesterday the Roads Will Receive Around Four Billion for Operations in 1917.

Washington, August 7.—Record prosperity for the railroads is shown in interstate commerce commission returns for June. The 153 roads covered by the figures operating three-fourths of the country's mileage, reported that their net revenue increased nearly $8,000,000 over June, 1916, the previous record month, and reached a total of $88,283,329. Operating revenues increased more than $38,000,000, totalling $273,867,527, while expenses were approximately $30,000,000 higher than a year ago.

The greatest income is shown by western roads, whose operating revenues jumped from $94,000,000 to $110,000,000. Expenses increased approximately $10,000,000, leaving net revenues from operation of $39,616,950, or about $6,000,000 more than in June, 1916.

Eastern roads show an increase in net revenue of approximately $600,000.

Operating revenues increased $15,000,000, totalling $120,865,262, while expenses increased approximately $14,400,000.

In the southern district operating revenues showed an increase of more than $7,000,000, reaching $42,719,588. Expenses increased approximately $6,000,000, leaving net revenues, $13,494,159, approximately $1,000,000 higher than a year ago.

Preliminary figures covering the first six months of 1917 show an excess of $2,500,000 in net revenues over the record figures of a year ago. This increase was in the face of several bad months during the winter. The returns are interpreted as indicating that the railroads will exceed in 1917 by many millions the banner figures recorded last year.

Total operating revenues of the 153 roads during the first six months were $1,489,248,702, an increase of $163,000,000 over the first six months of 1916. Expenses totalling $1,065,281,720 were approximately $160,500,000 greater than a year ago.

The upward turn came in May, when the total earnings showed up slightly better than in May, 1916. Thirty-three roads still are to be heard from, and on the basis of the reports already in, the total operating income of all the roads for June should show a $10,700,000 increase, at least, over June, 1916. The complete returns, it is estimated, will show the enormous total of $1,800,000,000 in operating incomes during the first six months of the current year. The increase in operating revenues for all roads during the period is expected to amount to approximately $190,000,000.

On the basis of these figures, it is not unlikely that the roads will receive around $4,000,000,000 for operations in 1917, an increase of twenty per cent over the previous high total. Expenses, of course, have soared to new heights also; but the margin between revenues and expenses is expected to be greater than ever before.

Home of Paul P. Gable, Cocoanut Grove, Fla. Carey Asfaltslate Shingles on Roof and Dormers

ON ROOF AND DORMERS

Protect and Beautify Your Home

WIND and rain, rust and decay, the long dry heat of Southern summers and the ever-present peril of fire—these are the enemies against which you must protect your property. Wooden shingles fail in every essential. The glare of the sun curls them up like shavings. Winds blow under them and carry them away. Nails rust and let the rotting shingles slide out of place. Rains beat through the openings and destroy your interior finish. And, sooner or later, a spark from a neighboring chimney is more than likely to set them aflame and turn your home into a great bonfire.

CAREY ASFALTSLATE SHINGLES are the roofing from Nature's own laboratory and are endorsed by the Underwriters. Asphalt is the most perfect waterproofing substance known to man. Slate is the ideal fire resistant. Wool felt insures warmth in winter and coolness in summer. These all combine to give permanent roofing protection in Carey Asfaltslate Shingles.

Uniform in size, quickly and cheaply laid. They fit snug and tight, three courses between the sheathing and the weather. They seal the nails air-tight and make rusting impossible. Time makes them hug the roof closer. Wind and rain cannot get through them. Burning brands falling on an Asfaltslate Shingle roof do no more damage than so many sparks in a stone quarry.

The beauty of Carey Asfaltslate Shingles, deep red or soft green with the unfading colors of the natural slate, makes them the ideal roofing for those who take pride in their surroundings

The South's Cotton Crop Had Value of $1,412,860,035 For the Trade Year '16-'17

New Orleans, August 7.—The total value of this country's cotton crop, including the seed, for the trade year ended July 31 last was $1,412,860,035, as against $958,200,000 a year ago, according to the annual report of Secretary Hester, of the New Orleans Cotton exchange, made public today. Prices paid for this year's crop, he mentioned, were the highest for the last 47 years.

The average price per pound for middling for the year just closed he puts at 18.41 cents, compared with 11.99 last year; 7.89 year before last, and 13.49 in 1913-14. The average commercial value per bale of this year's crop was $94.82.

As showing the rapid increase in price during the past year, Mr. Hester mentioned that the average value per bale in August, 1916, was $74.50 and that by July, 1917, the average value for spot cotton was $130.71.

"The short crop, following in the wake of a short crop, and an increased demand accentuated by the domestic demand for war purposes, naturally resulted in the high prices for this year," was the explanation given.

The 1916-17 Crop.

Secretary Hester reported the 1916-17 crop at 12,940,934 bales, an increase over last year of 2,678 bales, and 2,167,077 bales under two years ago. This year's crop in grade averaged middling to strict middling. The actual growth of 1916-17 was placed at 12,966,000, against 12,175,000 a year ago and 17,004,000 two years ago; number of bales carried over in the interior of the south, including mill stocks, 1,692,000 against 1,691,000 a year ago.

Total world takings of American cotton for the year were placed at 13,611,000 bales, against 14,171,000 last year and 13,519,000 two years ago. The visible supply of American cotton at the end of the year was 1,504,000 bales, against 2,129,000 last year and 3,282,000 two years ago. Total visible and invisible supply of American was 2,525,000 bales, against 3,635,000 last year and 5,629,000 two years ago.

Crop by States.

Secretary Hester's report puts the Texas crop 567,000 bales over last year; the group of gulf states shows an increase of 496,000 bales for the year, and the Atlantic states a decrease of 1,060,000 bales. His figures on the crop by states is given as follows in thousands of bales (i. e., thousands omitted):

STATE.	1916-17.	1915-16.
Alabama	659	1,255
Arkansas	1,225	847
Florida	60	60
Georgia	2,164	2,320
Louisiana	496	403
Oklahoma	905	806
Mississippi	924	1,100
North Carolina	827	893
South Carolina	1,127	1,370
Tennessee, etc.	610	510
Texas	3,941	3,374

Full Time in Mills.

"Full time has been universal in American mills the past year and many, especially in the south, have run day and night," the report says.

"American mills have consumed a total of 7,356,000 bales of American cotton, including linters, and in addition 311,000 bales of foreign, a total consumption of 7,557,000 bales, including 766,000 bales of linters."

Dry Goods.

New York, August 7.—Cotton goods were firmer and more active today. Demand for cotton goods for export was active and South American yarn buyers entered the markets again. Jobbers did an active business. Men's wear sellers did a moderate business for later delivery. Silks were quiet.

Coffee.

New York, August 7.—The market for coffee futures showed a slightly easier tone today. No further frost was reported in Brazil, while the official cables showed no anxiety in primary markets over the crop outlook, and after opening 1 point lower prices here eased off under scattering liquidation. September sold down from 7.96 to 7.88 and March from 8.20 to 8.12, with the market closing slightly up from the lowest on covering. Last prices, however, showed a net loss of 5 to 8 points. Sales, 19,500. August, 7.86; September, 7.92; October, 7.96; November, 7.99; December, 8.02; January, 8.07; February, 8.12; March, 8.17; April, 8.22; May, 8.27; June, 8.32; July, 8.36.

Spot coffee, quiet; Rio sevens, 9⅛; Santos fours, 10¼.

Comparatively few fresh offers were reported in from Brazil. Santos threes and fours, described as fair to good roasters, were said to be here at 9.60, and Santos fours were offered on the basis of 9½c London credits.

The official cables reported a decline of 75 reis in the Rio spot market with Santos spots unchanged and futures 25 reis higher. Brazilian port receipts, 82,000; Jundiahy receipts, 85,000; Rio clear, 21,000 for New York.

BLOODSHED IS CAUSED BY STREET CAR STRIKE

Policeman Fatally Wounded at Springfield, Illinois. Troops Patrol City.

Springfield, Ill., August 7.—Rioting was renewed here tonight when the street car company ordered a resumption of night service after ten days' discontinuance because of a strike of motormen and conductors. Policeman Noah Roll was shot and probably fatally wounded and Governor Frank O. Lowden immediately ordered out 500 national guardsmen to patrol the city.

Roll was struck by bullets said to have been fired from a street car manned by non-union men. Five men have been arrested, the conductor and motorman of the car, two guards employed by the street car company and Ralph Castles, a special deputy, who is said to have admitted that he fired five shots over the heads of a crowd which had surrounded the car and was alleged to have started throwing bricks. The car company has refused to recognize the union of striking carmen.

Numerous outbreaks occurred in various parts of the city, where cars were attacked and bricks thrown through windows. All cars were ordered to the barns.

Guardsmen went on duty at the power house and at the car barns with bayonets fixed. A score of arrests were made.

GERMANY IS URGED TO FIGHT TO LAST BY 78 PROFESSORS

Amsterdam, August 7.—Seventy-eight professors of Bonn university have signed a petition urging the German government never to make another peace offer, "since Germany's recent offer has been answered by the British challenge to retire behind the Rhine."

LOOPED THE LOOP TWENTY-TWO TIMES IN SUCCESSION

Newport News, Va., August 7.—Edward Stinson, a local aviation instructor, looped the loop twenty-two times in succession today, according to eyewitnesses who watched his exhibition which took place over Newport News. The performance is said here to break all American records for successive loops in the air.

BIG AIRCRAFT FACTORY FOR LEAGUE ISLAND

Washington, August 7.—Construction of an aircraft factory at the League Island navy yard, Philadelphia, to cost approximately $1,000,000 and to be completed in 100 days was ordered today by Secretary Daniels. The plant will employ 2,000 workers and will be capable of producing a thousand small planes yearly.

"In view of the enormous expansion of airplane industry now being undertaken in the United States," said the secretary in announcing his decision, "it was felt that it was necessary to increase the navy department's facilities along these lines.

"The navy department has a small flying field at the League Island navy yard adjacent to the factory, and excellent facilities for hydroplanes, so that it will be able to utilize this plant to keep the navy in the forefront with the latest developments in aircraft."

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND BURIED IN QUICK LIME

La Crosse, Wis., August 7.—Discovery of the body of Mrs. Cora Miller, buried in quick lime in the cellar of Edwin Hauge, a farmer of La Crosse county, today, cleared up the mystery of the disappearance of the woman and resulted in the issuance of a warrant for Hauge, who has not been seen since early in July. Mrs. Miller, upon whose farm Hauge lived, had been missing since February.

It is the theory of the police that Mrs. Miller, who owned several farms, had gone to collect rent and in a quarrel had been struck down with a hammer which was found near the body. Hauge is 32 years old and has a wife and child.

BIG CLOTH CONTRACTS AWARDED BY THE NAVY

Washington, August 7.—Contracts have been let by the navy department for 4,500,000 yards of woolen uniform cloth at an aggregate cost of more than $16,000,000. This is the largest purchase of woolen cloth ever made by the navy.

The contracts, it was announced today, have been distributed among 35 firms in different sections of the country.

About 15,000,000 pounds of wool is required for the manufacture of the cloth. It will make 1,000,000 shirts, 800,000 pairs of trousers and 350,000 overcoats, and will be delivered over a period of about seven months.

Hatters on Strike.

Danbury, Conn., August 7.—The conference between a committee of the striking hatters here and their employers ended today in failure to end the strike. Robert M. McWade, federal mediator, left for Washington as soon as a deadlock resulted from the refusal of the employees to consider arbitration of the rules of the national hatters' union. The conference began yesterday and the possibility of ending the strike was entertained then.

Sugar.

New York, August 7.—The market for raw sugar continues strong, and was a little more active, a local refiner buying 20,000 bags Cuba, August shipment, at 6½ cost and freight, equal to 7.52 for centrifugal, and 500 tons Peru August-September shipment at 6¼c c.i.f. At the close there were buyers at 6¼, with no offerings. Centrifugal was still, quoted with a range of 7.27 to 7.40; molasses 6.39@6.52 and cost and freight 6¼@6⅝.

Refined sugar was strong, one refiner having advanced last price 10 points to the basis of 8.40 for fine granulated, while others ranged up to 8.73.

Two refiners had withdrawn from the market entirely, and the others only taking limited business and from regular customers only. A good deal of strength was shown in the market for sugar futures, and new high records again appeared on the board, September at one time selling at 6.42 and December 5.93. After opening 2 to 15 points higher, the market became a little irregular and finally eased off a little under profit-taking, with the close one point net lower to 8 higher. Among the early buyers were Wall street and traders who frequently act for European interests. Total sales, 23,300 tons. September sold from 6.37 to 6.42 and closed 6.37; December from 5.84 to 5.93, closing 5.83, and January from 5.38 to 5.40, closing 5.38.

Kerensky's Health Matter of Concern To His Associates

Man Who Is Depended Upon to Save Free Russia in Grave Danger of Physical Collapse.

London, August 7.—The health of Alexander F. Kerensky, Russia's man of the hour, is a matter of grave concern to his friends and associates, according to members of an English delegation which has just returned from Petrograd. Premier Kerensky's health was none too good when he took office and the strain since has been not only constant, but probably heavier than any other statesman's in the world today. Illustrative of his weakness, it is stated that even during the first weeks of the revolution, every public speech he made was followed by a period of faintness. His friends say that only his tremendous will power and nervous energy has kept him going so long.

Those who have seen the brilliant Russian leader in the last few weeks describe his face as being haggard and drawn, his figure emaciated, his voice still strong and vibrant, but speech marred by frequent coughing, and his eyes brilliant, but not with the brilliance of ruddy health. The premier's whole appearance unmistakably shows the effect of the enormous work required of him every twenty-four hours and the heavy responsibility and constant drain on his slender physical resources.

"If Kerensky can only hold out," is the phrase more and more frequently heard among his friends and admirers, indicating their dread of his physical collapse and what that would mean to the destinies of free Russia.

MURDER IS HUMANE, SAY GERMAN PASTORS

Amsterdam, August 7.—Dutch newspapers print in a parallel column with an account of the murder of the crew of the British steamship Belgian Prince, a Berlin telegram giving the following extract from a pastoral letter read in all the Protestant churches of Berlin last Sunday:

"We will comport ourselves as Christians towards our enemies and conduct the war in the future, as in the past, with humanity and chivalry."

The pastoral letter was read at a service which Emperor William and the German empress attended at the cathedral. It exhorts the people to humanity, and recognized the hand of God in the protection from invasion which the fatherland has enjoyed.

The British steamship Belgian Prince was sunk July 31 by a German submarine. According to survivors, who reached a British port, the U-boat shelled the vessel and the German commander then ordered the crew to take to the boats and go alongside the submarine. The Germans, the survivors assert, removed the life belts and outer clothing of all the members of the crew except eight, smashed the lifeboats with axes, and then re-entered the submarine and closed the hatches, leaving the men on deck. The submarine travelled on the surface for about two miles and then submerged. Thirty-eight of the crew were drowned. Three others were rescued by a patrol boat.

G. N. & I. DIRECTORS PERSIST IN POSITION

The committee of the directors of the Georgia Normal and Industrial college which was appointed to confer with a similar committee from the trustees of the University of Georgia upon the differences that have arisen between these two governing bodies yesterday drafted its report to be submitted to the trustees of the university. This report states that the directors of the normal college decline to withdraw either their request that one-third of the Smith-Lever fund be directed to the use of that institution or their bill authorizing the institution to confer degrees upon its graduates.

The committee was authorized to act for the directors, so the action of the committee is apparently final.

The action of the committee in declining for the directors to recede from their position means the certainty of a stiff fight upon the floor of the house when the two questions involved come up.

ONE U-BOAT SINKS NINETEEN VESSELS IN THREE WEEKS

An Atlantic Port, August 7.—One German submarine during a three-week period ending July 19 sank nineteen vessels aggregating 66,000 tons and was still in condition to remain longer away from its base, according to a report brought here today by Harold Hansen, of Detroit, a member of the crew of one of the nineteen ships who said he received his information from the U-boat commander. Hansen said he belonged to the Norwegian sailing ship Artensis, a vessel of 1,789 tons gross register, sunk while on its way from Glasgow to Hampton Roads.

WAR FUND OF $3,000,000 FOR COLUMBUS KNIGHTS

Chicago, August 7.—A war fund of $3,000,000 will be raised by the Knights of Columbus for recreational centers for men in the army and navy camps, instead of the $1,000,000 it was originally planned to raise, according to a decision reached by the supreme council of the order in annual convention here today. The $1,000,000 fund already has been over-subscribed, it was announced.

Recreational camps will be maintained at the sixteen national army cantonments, at all national guard camps and at the thirty or more army and navy expansion camps.

It also was announced that the government has given notice that the 171 Roman Catholic chaplains who will go to France as chaplains with General Pershing's army will have the rank of first lieutenants. In addition to this number, the Knights of Columbus will support two hundred chaplains with the colors.

ATLANTA STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Featuring realty and building news Tuesday was the beginning of work on the new nine-story office building to be built by the Randolph-Brown company, at the southwest corner of Marietta and North Forsyth streets, at a cost of $325,000.

City Building Inspector Charles A. Bowen issued a permit for $325,000 for this building, which is to be utilized by railroads for administrative offices and by allied interests.

Man's inventive genius contributes health and beauty through the "New-Life" Electric Vibrator.

Upon the proper circulation of blood depends one's health, and upon one's health depends the complexion.

The "New-Life" Vibrator sends the blood coursing through the veins as if some hidden pressure, other than the heart, was pumping it through the system.

That is the effect of this wonderful mechanical massage which pounds new life and vigor into every canal by the rapid revolution of rubber attachments which so persistently agitate the surface that the blood cannot remain sluggish.

UNCLE SAM'S ARMY ON EUROPEAN PLAN

Reorganization to Conform to Foreign Units—The Division Is Cut From 28,000 to 20,000 Men.

Washington, August 7.—A reorganization of American army units, under which the division totaling 28,000 men, found unwieldy for service on European battlefields, is abandoned for the continental unit of about 19,000 men, has been ordered by the war department.

Under the new plan a division will include only two infantry brigades of two regiments each, in place of three brigades of three regiments each under the old system. Many other organization changes are made, including a material increase in the artillery and machine gun strength of each division. The cavalry regiment now included in each division is detached, a new trench mortar battery is added, and the old army corps plan abandoned after the civil war is put again in operation.

The sixteen divisions of the national guard as now constituted will be realigned in conformity with the new plan after the guardsmen reach their training camps. No changes in camp assignments, it is presumed, will be involved. The national army will be organized from the start under this plan. So far as the regulars are concerned it has been understood that the reorganization already has been carried out for the units in France.

War Department Order.

The war department order was announced in a statement issued by the public information committee tonight, as follows:

"A general order made public by the adjutant general's office today provides for important changes in the organization of the army.

"The ratio of artillery strength to infantry is greatly increased. A division will hereafter include only four infantry regiments in two brigades in place of the old division of three brigades, each comprising three regiments of infantry. There will still be three regiments of field artillery in each division. Thus, in the new organization there will be three regiments of field artillery to every four regiments of infantry, instead of the ratio of three to nine. In addition, a trench mortar battery is attached to each division.

"The machine gun arm is also materially enlarged. A machine gun battalion of four companies has been made a unit of each division, in addition to the three machine gun companies included in each regiment.

"The American division will be made by this order to conform practically to the units utilized by the entente allies, among whom a division numbers approximately 19,000 men. The reason for the change is that the division as heretofore made up of about 28,000 men is too unwieldy for the demands of trench warfare. With so large a unit sure and swift communication with all parts is difficult. The problem to be met was basicly one of mobility for the peculiar needs of fighting on the western front.

"The smaller sized divisions call for maintenance of all units at full fighting strength. For this purpose reserve battalions will be provided. 'These will consist of 612 men each and are listed in the general order as 'separate training battalions.' The number of these battalions has not been made public. Details of regimental organizations are also withheld for military reasons.

For Army Corps and Armies.

"The new order provides for army corps and armies, units which have practically existed only on paper since the civil war. Corps were organized during the Spanish war, but were not actually operated as such to any great extent.

"Each army corps will consist of three infantry divisions, corps headquarters and certain army corps troops not specified. Each army will normally consist of three or more army corps, army headquarters and certain army troops not specified.

"Under the new order each infantry division will be composed as follows, the changes from the present organization being as indicated:

"One division headquarters (same as at present).

"One machine gun battalion of four companies (new).

"Two infantry brigades of two regiments and one machine gun battalion (four companies) each. (The present division is three infantry brigades of three regiments each.)

"One field artillery brigade of three regiments and one trench mortar battery (same except trench mortar battery is new).

"One field signal battalion (same).

"One train headquarters and military police (same).

"One ammunition train (same).

"One supply train (same).

"One engineer train (same, except that pontoon and searchlight sections are not included in new plan).

"One sanitary train of four field hospital companies and four ambulance companies (same).

"The new organization provides for no cavalry in the division. The division as at present constituted calls for one regiment of cavalry. The present division also calls for one aero squadron while the new plan calls for none, the aircraft units being otherwise provided for.

"The order specifies sixteen divisions of the national army to be organized and numbered from seventy-six to ninety-one, both inclusive, and states the numbers to be given to each of the different units in each division. It provides that the sixteen divisions of the national guard now organized shall be reorganized to conform to the new plan as soon as practicable after their arrival in the training camp.

"The regular army, the national guard and national army will all conform to the same plan."

LIBERIA JOINS WAR AGAINST GERMANY

Action Gives Opportunity to Intern the German Merchants.

Washington, August 7.—Liberia, the negro republic on the coast of Africa, has declared war on Germany. Some time ago Liberia broke off diplomatic relations. The declaration of war now gives opportunity to intern German merchants and others who have been accused of unusual activities. The United States was advised today of the little republic's action.

WARPATH IS TAKEN BY APACHE INDIANS

Globe, Ariz., August 7.—Apache Indians in the Sierra Anchas mountains, 50 miles northwest of Globe, are on the warpath, and the two largest asbestos mines in the district have suspended operations, according to a telephone message summoning help, which was received at the sheriff's office tonight.

The manager of one of the mines informed Sheriff Tom Armor that leaders of the uprising have called out all Indian mine workers and that they were completely beyond control.

Deputy Sheriff Dan Armor, at the head of a band of mounted rangers, departed for the Sierra Anchas tonight, but they do not expect to arrive before tomorrow.

A call was issued by the sheriff for cowboys to hold themselves in readiness for duty.

A forest ranger who rode 25 miles over rugged mountain trails to reach a telephone, informed Sheriff Armer that forest fires were being started in the vicinity of the mines and that attemps to burn mines by Indians was prevented only by prominent action of guards.

According to the ranger, two Industrial Workers of the World organizers have been active among the force of 150 Mexicans and Indians employed in the district. The ranger's statements were corroborated by Manager Tiffany, of the mining companies, who telephoned to the sheriff from Rice, Ariz.

More men left Globe tonight for Rice, where they will obtain horses for the ride to the mines to assist in subduing the uprising and extinguish the forest fires, which the ranger said were gaining considerable headway.

The scene of the uprising is in an isolated region, penetrated only by rough trails and with little wire communication. Details of the affair have not been received, but it is evident that the mining companies think the situation has serious prospects.

GERMAN U-BOAT ATTACKS SPANISH FISHING BOAT

Paris, August 7.—The Madrid correspondent of the Havas agency telegraphs as follows:

"Official confirmation was given today to the report that a trawler of Bermeo, on the Bay of Biscay, 14 miles northeast of Bilboa, has been suddenly attacked by a submarine. A shell fired by the underwater boat fell on board the trawler, completely destroying it. The four men comprising the crew of the fisherman were wounded.

"Members of the crew of the submarine took the injured men on board, bandaged their wounds and then placed them aboard another Spanish trawler, which landed them at Bermeo. One of the wounded men died after terrible suffering while being landed.

"Premier Dato says the commander of the submarine has explained the attack was a mistake, that he thought the Spanish trawler was a French vessel."

STRIKE IS ORDERED IN THREE COAL FIELDS

Pineville, Ky., August 7.—Miners of southeastern Kentucky and northeastern Tennessee at a conference here today adopted resolutions calling for a strike to begin in these fields next Saturday. Ten thousand men are said to be affected.

The miners in the resolutions adopted demand a readjustment of the wage scale and recognition of the union as well as improved working conditions. The miners are reported to be well organized, leaders of the United Mine Workers of America having been at work in the fields for several months.

SEVERE WINDSTORM IN COLQUITT SECTION

Moultrie, Ga., August 7.—(Special.)—A wind and rain storm which swept the eastern part of Colquitt and the western part of Berrien counties yesterday afternoon caused considerable damage.

At times the wind attained the velocity of a tornado, and hundreds of trees that had been boxed for turpentine were blown down. Cotton and corn were also badly battered, and a number of barns and other outhouses were wrecked.

AMERICAN CONSCRIPTS MUST BE PHYSICALLY FIT

Gen. Pershing Says No Weaklings Must Be Sent to France.

Paris, August 7.—Major General Pershing, commander of the American expedition in France, told the Associated Press today it was highly essential that the men in America's conscript army should be in excellent physical condition, well disciplined and capable of individual action. He added that the army organization must be built from the bottom up, each man and officer devoting all his energies to the work. The general said:

"Our men must be in good physical condition, keeping their morale clean and thereby capable of meeting the trying conditions of modern warfare. The men must learn to obey orders promptly, implicitly and willingly, but not necessarily automatically.

"I object to the word 'automatic,' because we do not want a machine-made organization, but an army of thinking men, men with individuality, men fully capable and ready to assume command of units, should their officers be killed or incapacitated, as sometimes happens in trench warfare.

"The men must be made to realize that war is not sport or play, but serious work, demanding the utmost energy and attention to insure success."

General Pershing likened army organization to a football team in which each man is trained to physical perfection under strict discipline, but is capable of brilliant individual action in a crisis. He added: "We want our men trained the same way."

The general was optimistic and confident that America's army would give an excellent account of itself and would come up to the expectations of the other entente allies, despite the tremendous amount of work necessary before active American participation in trench warfare was possible.

PETITION TO SURRENDER CHARTER.

GEORGIA, Fulton County—
To the Superior Court of Said County:
The petition of Williams Printing Company, a corporation, shows:

1. Your petitioner is a corporation heretofore created and organized under a charter issued by the superior court of Fulton county, Georgia, on the 29th day of February, 1916.

2. That capital stock of said corporation is fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000), divided into shares of one hundred dollars ($100.00) each.

3. At a meeting of the stockholders of said Williams Printing Company, duly called for the purpose of passing the resolution hereinafter referred to, on July 25, 1917, a resolution was unanimously adopted by vote of all the owners of the capital stock of your petitioner, resolving that the corporation should surrender its charter and franchise to the state and be dissolved as a corporation. A copy of said resolution as appearing from the minutes of said meeting, duly certified by your petitioner's secretary, is hereto attached and market "Exhibit A."

4. Petitioner owes no debts of any kind.

WHEREFORE, petitioner prays that the court accept the surrender of its charter and franchise and order its dissolution.
